EYEING POSSIBLE SHELTER SITE—Hancock County officials inspecting a possible site near the Fairgrounds for a proposed animal control facility are, from left, County Animal Control Commission President C.J. Dumestre, County Agent John Smith and District Four Supervisor Sam Pernicelli. After the Friday inspection Dumestre recommended at a Monday County Board of Supervisors' meeting the facility be built some 800 feet south of the Washington and Chapman Road intersection on an abandoned airfield. The commission previously recommended placing the shelter 300 feet from the intersection, but District Five Supervisor James Travira has objected to both proposals and threatens to rally citizens to oppose the airfield location at a Dec. 22 hearing. Hancock board reverses drug expulsion decision

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County School Board Wednesday reversed an earlier decision to expel a Hancock North Central High student for alleged marijuana possession on a legal technicality involving 'the right of due process.'

The student was reinstated effective Thursday under a penalty imposed by the board of 10 days in-school suspension.

According to Hancock North Central High Principal Donald Hillman, 'in-school' suspension means the student will be placed in a detention hall until the ten days are over.

"He will not be allowed to attend the normal classes with other students," Hillman said.

"He will be given the class material through the hall monitors."

The student was informed at the end of the hearing by Gerald Gex, filling in for absent school board attorney Joseph Gex, that a subsequent violation of any school policy will result in his expulsion from school for the rest of the year.

The student was temporarily suspended from school October 15 for violating a school policy, possession of a controlled drug.

"He has remained out of school until today."

A hearing Nov. 1 by the school board resulted in the student's dismissal for the rest of the year.

Defense attorney Aaron Adams of Waveland informed the board in an executive session on Nov. 8 that the student's rights had been denied.

The board moved to have another hearing Nov. 12, but Adams was detained in court on another case, and the hearing was reset for Saturday, Nov. 15.

The board could not muster a quorum on that date, however, and the hearing was further delayed until Wednesday.

"The student was given notice of the hearing but he was not given notice of all his rights," Adams said.

Hospital organizing Critical Care Unit

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

For the first time in its almost 20 years of existence, Hancock General Hospital will soon open a Critical Care Unit.

However, Interim Hospital Administrator Lamar Brooks reported at a Board of Trustees meeting Monday night he has not yet completely staffed the facility which is tentatively scheduled to open Dec. 1.

"This will be a special self-contained unit with its own staff of special care nurses. These nurses will have special care training," Brooks explained Wednesday morning.

The interim administrator said the special unit will treat 'post surgery' patients after 'major surgery' for monitoring and be available to cardiac patients.

Brooks said major operations conducted at the hospital include amputations, and chest and pulmonary surgery.

"We've never had this before at Hancock General. We've only had 'monitored beds,' but with no specially-trained nurses assigned," Brooks reported.

The new unit will be located in two semi-private rooms containing four beds near the nurse's station in the hospital's Pepperdine Wing.

The interim administrator said the unit will primarily utilize existing hospital equipment, but 'a couple of oxygen lines' and curtains around beds need to be installed.

However, the hospital is encountering some problems finding personnel for the proposed CCU.

Brooks reported at a hospital board meeting Monday night, "Our nurses are concerned about caring for critically ill patients. They are not trained for this situation."

"Staffing is going to be the most critical part of this new unit," he noted.

The interim administrator reported four registered nurses, four licensed practical nurses and four aids are needed to staff the unit.

"We have three LPN's who have agreed to come here and several RN's who are willing to come," Brooks reported.

"It's a matter of getting nurses back to Hancock General. If we're willing to show them what we can do for critically ill patients, it will help," he said.

"We've lost several good nurses because of a lack of a critical care unit," Brooks explained.

At a board meeting Tuesday night with the hospital's medical staff, Board President Rev. Charles Johnson said, "I think the doctors assured us we'd get personnel for this unit."

Former Chief of Staff Dr. Sidney Chevis replied, "I've sent three RN's here already. What's happened to them?"

Brooks reported he has hired three RN's and has 'other possibilities.'

Dr. William Hill stated, "I think nurses who live in this area will come back and work here, but they want to see what's happening."

Trustee Brother Martin Hernandez, SC, explained, "With the hospital not in a condition to accept critically ill patients the nurses felt they could not."

Hancock, Harrison sheriffs clash on bonding procedures

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald (Ronnie) Peterson has written a letter of objection to Sheriff Leroy Hobbs of Harrison County for his department's failure to accept property bonds signed by Peterson.

Peterson said late Wednesday, "For as long as I can remember, if a person was arrested in Harrison County and was a property owner in Hancock, he could have the Hancock sheriff sign a property bond instead of posting a cash bond."

"Due to the fact that Sheriff Hobbs's chief assistant Craig Monroe has refused to recognize my signature and I will not recognize any of theirs," Peterson added.

The Hancock sheriff said that Hobbs had tried to reach him this afternoon while he was out on road blocks. Peterson said he attempted again later to return Hobbs's call but was unsuccessful.

Peterson said he feels the matter can be resolved.

Peterson stated, "If a person lives in Hancock and is arrested in Harrison, I see no reason why he should have to pay a bonding company for putting up a cash bond if the defendant is a property owner. I feel it should work the same way for a resident of Harrison being arrested in Hancock."

"As long as I can remember, we have honored the Harrison sheriff's signature and they have honored ours," Peterson allowed.

Former Hancock Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. signed bonds many times when Peterson was a deputy.

The letter to Hobbs stated that until the problem was settled, "he would not accept or approve any property bonds submitted by the sheriff of Harrison County or any other duly authorized agent of the sheriff's office."

Copies of the letter were sent to the Police Chiefs of Pass Christian, Gulfport, Long Beach and Biloxi.

In other matters, Peterson reports the writing of 43 citations Monday, 18 Tuesday and 17 Wednesday during road blocks checking on tags.

Peterson stated, "The tickets were issued for out of state tags, expired license plates, and inspection stickers." Peterson advises all motorists to check their license plates, drivers licenses and inspection stickers.

"I know that the tax department mails out notices on license plates and I have been told that some people have not received theirs. I would suggest they check to make sure theirs is valid," Peterson allowed.

The road blocks will continue throughout the county, according to the sheriff.

Ladner of Necaise Crossing, Ladner set and broke every record at Hancock North Central during his prep career. Ladner who was inducted posthumously into the Hall of Fame at the University of Mississippi Southern in 1978, was killed on June 24, 1975 in an air plane crash in New York. At the time, he was a member of the New York Nets professional basketball team.

The first game in honor of Ladner was played on Nov. 22, 1975 with Hancock North Central going against the Poplarville Hornets.

Proceeds from the annual memorial game are used by the Jaycees for a scholarship fund for some student from Hancock North Central and other community projects like little league baseball.

St. John's is no stranger to the area.

October 1, 1980 stocks while the remainder in off-farm storage amounted to 1.49 billion bushels (40.7 million metric tons). Last year, farm storages held 1.03 billion bushels (28.1 million metric tons) and off-farm storage had 1.24 billion bushels (33.8 million metric tons).

The September 1, 1980 carryover of old crop soybeans into the 1980-81 marketing year totaled a record 359 million bushels (9.78 million metric tons), more than double the carryover last year and 123 percent more than 1978.

Soybeans stored on farms totaled 129 million bushels (3.52 million metric tons), up 109 percent from last year and 119 percent above two years ago. On-farm stocks accounted for 36 percent of the soybeans stored in all positions. Off-farm stocks at 230 million bushels (6.26 million metric tons) were 104 percent above last year and 125 percent above two years earlier.

Disappearance during the marketing year (September 1979-August 1980) totaled 2.08 billion bushels (56.7 million metric tons) as indicated by year-end stocks, 12 percent above a year ago. Crushings accounted for about 1.12 billion bushels (30.5 million metric tons), exports about 873 million bushels (23.7 million metric tons), and seed about 67 million bushels (1.82 million metric tons).

Indicated disappearance during June - August 1980 totaled 416 million bushels (11.3 million metric tons), 18 percent more than during the same period last year.

CROP REPORT, NOVEMBER, 1980

SUMMARY

SOYBEANS: Based on conditions as of November 1, soybeans production is forecast at 69,300,000 bushels, the same as last month's forecast, but 42 percent below 1979. Yield per acre is forecast at 18.0 bushels. The U.S. production is forecast at 1,775 million bushels, 12 million bushels above last month's forecast, and 22 percent below the 1979 production of 2,268 million.

COTTON: Production of cotton is forecast at 1,150,000 bales, the same as last month's forecast, but 20 percent below the 1979 production. The U.S. production is forecast at 11,224,300 bales, 3 percent below last month's forecast and 23 percent below 1979.

RICE: Production of rice is forecast at 9,500,000 cwt. This is up 3 percent from last month's forecast, and 13 percent above 1979. The U.S. production is forecast at 146,089,000 cwt., 11 percent above last year, and 2 percent above last month's forecast.

CROP & LIVESTOCK

An Oct. 15 index of prices received by Mississippi farmers for all commodities was down seven points to 291 percent of its January-December 1967 average says the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Lower cotton prices contributed to a decrease of seven points (two percent) in the 'All Crops Index' to 322 percent of its January-December 1967 average.

A decrease in poultry prices led to a seven point (three percent) decrease in the 'Livestock and Livestock Products Index' to 249 percent of its January-December 1967 average.

An October ratio of prices received by Mississippi farmers compared to U.S. prices paid was 101 percent of its January-December 1967 average.

The index of prices paid by farmers for commodities and services, interest, taxes and farm wage rates for Oct. 15 was 288, an increase of two points from mid-September.

Real Estate

By GAIL PRESSMAN G.R.I.

REALTOR

ON OLDER HOMES

Every year, twice as many American families buy older (or previously-occupied homes) than they do new houses. Depending upon the age of the home, naturally, there may be some unknown risks in the area of construction, plumbing, or wiring. However, these can be obviated by a professional inspection.

But there are also some major advantages to buying an older home: It normally contains far more space than a new home in the same price range, and there are a great many more older homes than new homes for sale which gives you a wider opportunity to make a good buy. Also, many older homes have a charm, location, and graciousness that can't be found in a new home.

True, a new home will give you fewer maintenance problems and more modern built-in appliances, however, there is much to be said for the older home too. The best approach is to look at both and weigh the merits. We'll be happy to show you a fine selection of both older and new homes to choose from.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-2224. We're here to help!

Local United Way extends 1980 drive

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County's United Way Board of Directors is issuing a desperate appeal to local residents for contributions for its 1980 campaign.

This year's fundraising campaign was originally scheduled to end Oct. 31, but since the organization was short of its $40,000 goal the board of directors decided in a recent special meeting to extend the deadline to Nov. 30.

As of this week the campaign has netted $31,432 which is some 79 percent of needed funds.

Local United Way Campaign Chairman Dick Kosbab of Bay St. Louis said earlier this week, "We are issuing a desperate appeal to the citizens of Hancock County to please contribute to the United Way before Nov. 30."

Kosbab attributes this year's slow collections to a lagging local economy.

In addition, the board of directors earlier this year increased its 1980 goal from 1979's exceeded goal of $35,000.

Executive Secretary May Beyer noted the organization's operating expense is approximately seven percent.

Executive Director Conrad Mauffray stated, "Smaller drives sometimes average as high as 30 percent for campaign costs and overhead."

Kosbab said he is collecting contributions along with Board President Norton Haas, Mauffray, Beyer, Treasurer Ellis Cuevas, and Board Members Wallace Bradley, Rev. Charles Clark, Genevieve O. Daniels, Paul Lewis, Wayne Ducomb Jr., Rev. Willis Britt, Ena Piazza, Billy D. Sills or E. Michael Necaise.

The campaign chairman also recommended those preferring to mail contributions should send those to United Way of Hancock County, P.O. Box 142, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

State official reports local voter increase

By BRENT MACEY

The number of Hancock County registered voters increased by 909 during the period June to November, according to a survey released by Mississippi Secretary of State Ed Pittman.

The survey shows 16,749 registered voters in November and 15,840 in June. According to Henry Otis, Hancock County registrar of voters, the increase is a result of so many people moving over from Louisiana.

"They were not interested in the county election we had last year but they were interested in the Presidential Election this year," Otis said.

Otis also attributed the increase to a large number of teenagers turning 17 years old.

"They can register to vote if they will be turning eighteen before the election," Otis said.

When asked why most counties did not show such an increase, Otis said, "The other counties do not have as many people moving in from out of state."

The exception were neighboring counties to Hancock County.

Harrison County showed an increase of 726 registered voters from 70,792 in June to 71,518 in November.

Pearl River County showed an increase of 1,024 registered voters from 21,063 in June to 22,087 in November.

EDITORIAL

Leave it to Mississippi to be last!

A funny thing happened to us on election day, and we thought you would like to know.

One of the county's voters challenged a story we carried about the correct procedure for voting for the presidential electors.

The story preceding the election stated that a voter could vote for any seven presidential electors, no matter the party. In other words, a voter could vote for some Republican, some Democrat and some Independent electors, as long as he or she did not vote for more than seven.

It seems that Mississippi and only one other state has such an outmoded law on the books.

In conversation with State Representative J.P. Compretta, we have been advised that the House during the 1980 session passed a bill to bring this law up to date, but it failed in the Senate.

State Senator Martin Smith reports that a bill has been prefiled and should be released this week for the 1981 session.

Senator Smith said he feels that the bill did not pass in the 1980 session in the Senate because of Section Five of the Voting Rights Laws of 1965.

That section requires any changes in the State of Mississippi pertaining to elections to be first approved by the Justice Department before they can become law.

Senator Smith said if the Justice Department would have sat on the bill for awhile, it could have really caused a lot of problems during the past election.

We are happy to hear that the bill has been prefiled in the Senate and hope that it will pass both governing bodies in the 1981 session so it can be reviewed by the Justice Department in time for the next presidential election.

We can see no reason why a voter could not vote for the presidential candidate of his or her choice and the candidate's electors by just casting one vote.

Bits-N-Pieces

We would like to issue an urgent plea on behalf of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society.

There is a need for a dog house for someone who is housing animals for the society and who will be unable to continue without shelter.

So if you have an old 'fido house' around and not in use, call 467-9548 or 467-5765, it will be greatly appreciated.

We still get complaints about the mail box on Federal Street, now even after it has been moved back to the left side of the street.

We were never able to figure why it was moved to the right because no one could reach it from the driver's side of their auto.

Well now that it now has been moved to what we think is the proper place, one can not always reach it because some joker will park next to it.

And talking about parking, there is no parking in front of the Post Office and some fail to recognize the restrictions and cause all kinds of traffic snarls.

A few tickets written could stop a lot of the headaches. Guess what folks really want is some place to drive through and pickup their mail!

We know there are a lot of boys and girls out there wanting to write a letter to Santa for Christmas.

We have made special arrangements to forward letters to Santa at the North Pole and will also publish some of them in our coming issues of the Sea Coast Echo.

So send your letters to Santa Claus, North Pole, U.S.A.

While we are on the subject of letters, we would like to remind our readers to get Christmas mailing out early.

We know every year we try to do so, but seems we all put it off until the last minute and the poor old mail man is loaded down. Please, if you intended on mailing packages get them out early, so they will be at their destination on time.

We know everyone (well almost everyone) thought local football was finished for the season.

Well if you thought so, you were wrong as we know of at least two games still on tap.

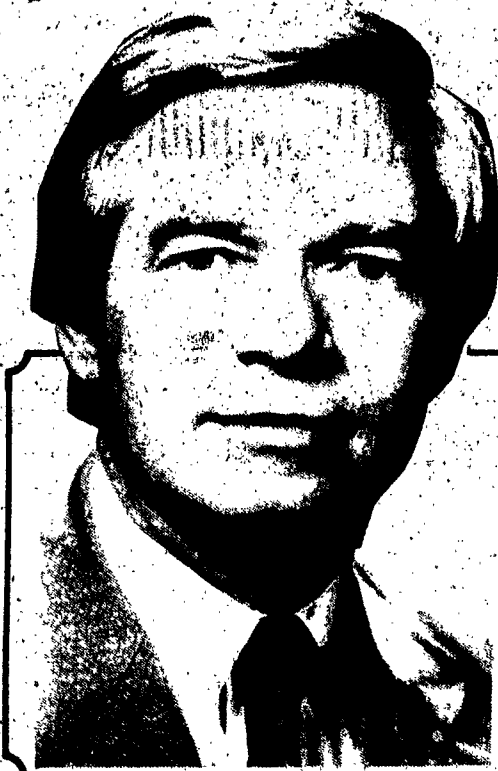

Tonight at Tiger Stadium, Bay St. Louis Junior High hosts the Mullet Bowl in a contest with Harrison Central Junior High and could be a good game.

The Mullet Bowl is sponsored by the Bay High Booster Club. Saturday night will be the annual Wendall Ladner Memorial Bowl at the Hancock North Central Hawk Stadium.

The St. John's Eagles will battle the Beat Four High School from Waynesboro in that senior high school football contest.

The Central Hancock Jaycees are sponsoring the Wendell Ladner Memorial Bowl.

We hope everyone will try and get out and support these two fine organizations which are supporting these bowl games.

Senator Cochran reports

The results of the recent Presidential and Congressional elections are significant, both politically and historically for our country.

Many observers believe it is the most dramatic philosophical shift in our nation's direction since the Franklin Delano Roosevelt landslide of 1932, which ushered in the New Deal era. History, and how the new leadership in Washington handles its opportunities, will determine that.

But first, let us examine the results of the 1980 election and put these facts into perspective.

Governor Reagan's election as the 40th President meant that Jimmy Carter was the first incumbent Democratic President defeated for reelection since Grover Cleveland lost to Benjamin Harrison in 1888, nearly a century ago.

Another stunning occurrence was the election of 16 new Republican senators, giving the GOP control of the Senate next January for the first time in over a quarter of a century. The 1980 election ended the longest one-party dominance of the U.S. Senate in our history.

On the House side of Capitol Hill, Republicans gained a total of 33 seats, leaving the Democratic majority with their narrowest margin of control since 1956. Several prominent House leaders and committee chairmen were defeated in the Republican landslide.

But the greatest impact from the 1980 election is expected to be felt not at the White House or in the House of Representatives but right here in the United States Senate.

The 12-seat net gain by the Republican party was the biggest turnover since the Democrats won 15 in the 1958 election. Another interesting comparison is that not since 1860 have the Democrats lost more seats in the Senate. Thirteen incumbent Senators were defeated this year, and coupled with five others who voluntarily retired, the freshman class of '81 means nearly one-fifth of our body will be newcomers.

All 15 standing committees of the Senate, as well as select or special committees, will have Republican chairmen for the first time since 1954. Most of these new GOP chairmen are more conservative, more toward the mainstream of thinking in this country than some of those now commanding these important leadership positions. Our neighbor from the state of Tennessee, Senator Howard Baker, will probably be the new Majority Leader in charge of winning a consensus for the legislation and programs of the new administration.

There will be some real challenges facing those of us returning in January for the 97th Congress.

Serious problems confront our nation, at home and abroad, both economically and militarily.

The people of America have indicated through their vote at the polls that they want decisive, responsible leadership from the White House and Congress in addressing these problems.

Inflation, unemployment, the weakness of our national defense, respect for America by friends and adversaries, the burden of government regulation, and waste and inefficiency in many federal programs—all these are issues the American people want handled in an effective manner.

From the standpoint of our own state of Mississippi, I might note that our Congressional delegation returns intact, although there very likely will be changes in some of our committee assignments and other leadership positions. We will, I assure you, continue to work as a team in behalf of the best interests of our state as well as the larger national interest.

I am convinced that given the proper leadership, the American people will respond favorably and overcome many of the difficulties which now confront the nation.

Governor Reagan and the new Congress have been given a mandate to take positive and responsible action to achieve this goal.

With sensible cooperation and the proper spirit, I believe we can make great progress in moving our country forward.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Senior cites inconveniences of supermarkets' computer pricing

Nov. 16, 1980
Letters to the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

I am writing concerning the price tags on merchandise in one of our super stores.

They are small and printed by a computer and are very hard to read. Some are so low to the floor that you would have to lie down to read them.

I am a senior citizen with my eyesight getting bad, and it aggravates me to have to shop under these conditions. I have heard countless others complaining about this also.

The receipt you get when you leave the store is wonderful, but everyone likes to know the price of an item before checking out.

Pretty soon another super store will be in our neighborhood, so I'm suggesting that everyone patronize the store that shows their prices most clearly.

I sincerely hope that the home offices of these super stores read this letter and do something about it because I'm tired of complaining.

Mrs. Wm. J. Bradford

Great American Smokeout today to include celebrities

To The Editor

Thursday, November 20, 1980 is the day of the Great American Smokeout. For the fourth consecutive year we are asking smokers to quit cigarettes for 24 hours, and, hopefully, to consider giving them up for good.

One of those who will try is Natalie Cole, National Chairman of the 1980 G.A.S. She has significant motivation. Her father, the great jazz musician Nat "King" Cole, was a heavy smoker who died of lung cancer. Natalie Cole is now a parent herself. She intends to quit smoking!

Last year, nearly 15 million Americans took part in the Smokeout. Five million made it and stopped for the day; but, 2 or 3 days later, 2.3 million still were not smoking. We want to do even better this year!

Please help us alert your readers to the importance of November 20th by running these messages as frequently as possible in forthcoming issues. You may be giving them a new lease on life.

BILL ALLAIN, ATTORNEY GENERAL

FREE VACATION

Attorney General Bill Allain is warning consumers to be careful when signing up for "free vacation" offers being solicited throughout the state.

According to Allain, These "free vacations" are promotional schemes to sell real estate or schemes to defraud the consumer from his money.

Promoters of "free vacations" usually contact consumers through mail or telephone solicitation.

The consumer is told that he or she has won an exciting fun-filled holiday with deluxe room accommodations for several days and nights. Sometimes it's Las Vegas, Reno, or Florida.

However, the title of the consumer protection division contains complaints from unhappy people who took the promoter up on the "free vacation" offer.

Allain tells of people who traveled to Las Vegas or to other vacation spots only to find out that even though they had "confirmed" reservations, the hotels staff had never heard of them.

Listed below are other problems consumers may encounter:

—Promoters may request credit card number for registration fee.

—$20-$50 registration fee.

—Consumer must provide own transportation to and from destination.

—Also, "bonus coupons" for free meals, drinks, discount gambling, show tickets, or golf may not be a bargain at all. For example, an offer of free meals may be limited to the hours of 2 a.m. - 5 a.m., and free tickets for gambling might be available only from certain casinos at odd hours.

Allain states that some vacation offers may be completely above board and plainly disclose any limitations they may have. But before you fly off to your free vacation, he suggests that you invest some time checking the reputation of the company.

For additional information contact attorney general Bill Allain, Consumer Protection Division, P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39201, (601) 461-9442.

Theosophists offering New Age Film Festival

The Theosophical Society of the Gulf Coast is sponsoring a New Age Film Festival Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. at the Biloxi Cultural Center. The society suggests a $2 donation to offset costs.

Films to be shown during the event include:

Mother Teresa of Calcutta—A sensitive documentation of the work surrounding the winner of the 1979 Nobel Peace Prize, this film takes us on a journey through a day in the life of Mother Teresa's Sisters of Mercy as they feed the starving, care for abandoned babies, and minister to the diseased and dying.

BBC's Malcolm Muggeridge interviews Mother Teresa as she tells the story of her calling to aid "the poorest of the poor" so that in them Christ might live more fully. 52 min.

Beauty-An—extraordinary visual and auditory exploration of the mandala and other visionary forms. Color and light are used to integrate the relationship which exists between the 7 colors of the spectrum, the seven notes of the musical scale, the 7 glands of the body, the 7 etheric chakras.

It utilized video images, laser light and celestial music to create a harmonious environment conducive to healing meditation. 15 min.

The Sufi Way—An in-depth study of Sufism and its mystical core, Sufism. Shot on location from India to Morocco, this award winning film covers Muslim rituals, the teachings of the Koran, Whirling Dervishes of Turkey and the Sufi way to God. 30 min.

Biofeedback—A documentary on the studies of Dr. Elmer Green of the Menninger Foundation. His discoveries are shown to be effective training methods in schools, prisons and hospitals, giving participants a deeper sense of self-mastery and insight into the subconscious. 40 min.

Empire Of The Sun—Explores the belief and attitudes of the people who live in a new age community near Santa Barbara. Members of Brotherhood of the Sun participate in group meditation, work on the land and in their store, perform daily tasks and playfully enjoy life. They present their views on living in harmony with God and the earth, returning to natural foods and medicines, feeling a kinship with the Hopis, and working together to build for the future. 25 min.

Pass Christian students' state test scores improve

Pass Christian Public School officials recently reported students in grades four, six and eight scored better than last year in a state-wide testing program to assess student performance.

"In every instance, actual achievement scores of the students exceeded the anticipated achievement scores in all three grades," Superintendent of Education Leroy Lizana said.

Lizana reports an analysis of test data shows the students achieving:

—beyond what is expected in reading vocabulary, reading comprehension, math computation, math concepts, language mechanics, language usage, spelling and reference skills or in all areas tested in grade four;

—beyond what is expected in mathematics computation, language usage, spelling and reference skills in grade six;

—beyond what is expected in mathematics computation, language mechanics, spelling and reference skills in grade eight;

—as expected in reading vocabulary, reading comprehension, math concepts, and language usage in grades five and eight; and —as expected in language mechanics in grade six.

"Two standardized tests were given to fourth, sixth and eighth grade students in April as part of a state-wide testing program. One test, the short form test of Academic Aptitude is a measure of ability. The other, the California Achievement Test, is a measure of what students have learned," the superintendent noted.

"The scores reflect the difference between aptitude and learning and one based on whether students scored as expected or less than expected," he added.

Tests were given in reading vocabulary, reading comprehension, math computation, math concepts, language mechanics, language usage, spelling and reference skills.

Lizana said, "The test scores are the best ever received since the beginning of the state testing program in 1977 and show that instruction has improved and the children are learning more as a result of changes made during recent years in the curriculum."

He noted curriculum changes included:

—More emphasis on drill and memorization in mathematics and on capitalization and punctuation in language;

—The use of a new individualized mathematics system;

—The addition of remedial mathematics teachers in grades one - four;

—The addition of a part-time reading specialist to assist with reading and language in grades five - eight and;

—The expanded use of reading laboratories and kits.

The superintendent said the development and implementation of a discrepancy evaluation model in some areas of the curriculum has resulted in improved instruction in the district.

NEW MANAGER — Michael Labarriere was recently appointed manager of the Kent's store at Our Shopping Center in Waveland. Labarriere, a New Orleans native, has been employed by Kent's for six years. "The people here are very nice and I really like this area," Labarriere said of his new location. (Staff photo by Randy Ponder) CONGRATULATIONS—Some 79 employees at Bergeron Marine, Inc. at Port Blenville Industrial Park, with almost perfect attendance in September, were eligible to receive a 19-inch color television set. Jose D. Rodriguez, right, was awarded the set for his attendance record and is congratulated by manager Jack Golemon of the local shipbuilding firm.

If you think you're hurried and harried these days in preparation for the Thanksgiving feast, stop a moment to consider the plight of the would-be 19th Century gourmet housewife who—before she could even think about trussing and stuffing the noble bird, had to give it lots of loving care ahead of time to assure its tenderness.

This advice comes from a delightful cookbook, "A Compendium of Victorian Cookery and Reliable Recipes" from the Russell House Kitchen, a marvelous mixture of gleanings from Victorian cookbooks, sage sayings, household hints, and so forth.

Published to celebrate America's 200th anniversary in 1976, of course, the book was compiled by the members of the Association for the Preservation of the Rensselaer Russell House in Waterloo, Iowa, incorporated in 1969 to renovate and operate this home as a Victorian Museum.

It comes to me from my friend Marion Lichty, who calls herself one of our "snowbirds", spending her time between her Iowa home and Pass Christian. She and I, fellow "cookaholics", exchange books and recipes from time to time... and she is adding to my knowledge of the cooking of her area, while I infiltrate her cooking with my recipe ideas from our Coast and environs. It's fun, as any cooking-enthusiast will tell you.

At any rate, this advice, meant for the Christmas dinner, serves as well as Thanksgiving.

"To Prepare A Turkey For Christmas Dinner (In 1890)"

"The turkey should be cooped up and fed for some time before Christmas. Three days before it is to be slaughtered, it should have an English walnut forced down its throat three times a day, and a glass of sherry once a day. The meat will be deliciously tender and have a fine, nutty flavor."

So that's why we add nuts to our stuffings as well as sherry and other such! Since we don't have to do all that, let's each cook the bird our own way, but today I was thinking of the smaller households where a huge, delicious turkey turns into an albatross right after Thanksgiving Day, too good to discard, too tiresome to keep eating.

If that's your case, who not serve

ROAST STUFFED BROILER HALVES

(for two)

1 chicken, halved
2 Tblsp. fat
½ cup white wine
½ cup orange juice
1 Teaspoon minced parsley
Rub the halved chickens with the fat and place in a shallow baking dish, skin side down. Season with pepper, salt, etc., as you wish. Add the wine and juice. Bake in a hot (375) oven for 45 minutes, turn the chicken and continue to roast until the tops are golden brown.

While this is going on, prepare the stuffing of your choice, about a cup for each chicken half. Place a mound of stuffing on each plate, top with the chicken halves, completely covering the stuffing...and enjoy!

Incidentally, if I'm cooking the traditional turkey, or even this pint-sized version, I like to sprinkle sage atop the bird while roasting. I'm really not sure what it does for the turkey, but it surely makes the whole house smell wonderful! (Copyright, 1980, Katharine D. M. Caire)

Firefighting equipment funds available soon

The Mississippi Forestry Commission expects to have approximately $50,000 in federal funds available soon for small matching grants to rural communities to assist them in obtaining needed firefighting equipment, State Forester Dick Allen said in Jackson this week.

"The grants will be issued under the Rural Community Fire Protection Program as authorized under Public Law 95-113. This will be the sixth year Mississippi has received funds for such grants which are limited to a maximum of $2,000 per community," Allen explained.

"Communities or fire departments interested in securing one of the grants would be well-advised to take prompt action in this regard," said Tom Hardage, chief of Forest Protection for the Commission.

"Rural communities of under 10,000 population are eligible for the funds," Hardage added.

Application forms may be obtained from Tom Hardage, Chief, Forest Protection, 908 Robert E. Lee Building, Jackson, Miss 39201, or from commission district offices at Tupelo, Philadelphia, Bay Springs, Wiggins, Brookhaven, Rolling Fork and Elliott.

"Completed applications must be returned to me by 5 p.m. February 6, 1981. All grant monies must be spent and materials must be in the purchasers legal possession by Aug. 31, 1981," Hardage noted.

Hancock advisory council elects six new members

Title I Parent Advisory Council meetings were at all three Hancock County Schools recently.

New members elected to fill unexpired terms are Darlene Reynolds representing Charles B. Murphy Elementary School in Pearlinton; Mary Genna of Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore; Pam Donelson, Margaret Ladner and Rhonda Ladner, all of Hancock Elementary School; and Lucille Smith of Annunciation Catholic School in Kiln.

Title One Coordinator Helen Mesteyer reviewed the purpose and history of Title One ESEA along with Title One guidelines and laws.

Discussions included reports of ways parents might be involved in Title One Program planning, implementation, and evaluation. The coordinator suggested methods for conducting meetings and offered help in planning the years agenda.

Plans were made to ask the State Reading Supervisor to speak at the next meeting and discuss what parents can do to help children improve in their reading.

Members and guests were invited to visit Title I Individualized Programmed Tutorial Reading Stations in each school.

COLUMBUS—Black attorney Wilbur Colom of Columbus said here recently he has been selected to serve on the transition team of President-elect Ronald Reagan.

The 30 year-old native of Ripley, Ms., has accepted a position on the team in the area of legal justice and regulatory agencies.

"I am very excited about this appointment and the opportunity to play a role in the organization of the Reagan Administration," said Colom.

"I believe Governor Reagan's appointment of me dispels many of the myths that Ronald Reagan and the Republican Party have closed the doors to Black involvement," continued Colom.

Colom will remain in Washington for the next eleven weeks where he has joined eleven others on Reagan's transition team in making recommendations on department organization, personnel and policy.

Four Pass students in Perkinson group

Four Pass Christian students were among officers and new initiates of a Gulf Coast Junior College Perkinson Campus business and industry organization.

Some 10 students at Gulf Coast Junior College's Perkinson Campus were recently initiated into Phi Beta Lambda, Alpha Omega chapter, which include Vicki Bailey of Brooklyn; Dorothy Clay of New Augusta; Annie Dixon of Saucier; John Marble of Hurley; Terry Edwards of Ocean Springs; Donna Davis and Sandy Langley, both of Wiggins; Bevelyn Dunn, Terrie Lumpkin and Barbara McCloud, all of Pass Christian.

Officers initiated for the 1980-81 school term are Ricky Churchwell, president of Lucedale; Mike Singletary, vice president of Saucier; Paula Mergenschroer, secretary and Jimmy Green, treasurer, both of Lucedale; Kenneth Rafferty, reporter of Pass Christian; and Debbie Blanchard, historian of Biloxi.

Amy Clegg, state Phi Beta Lambda president and a student at the University of Southern Mississippi, in Hattiesburg conducted an officers' initiation.

Ricky Churchwell installed the members.

Campus sponsor is Anna Faye Kelly, business instructor at Perkinson.

"Phi Beta Lambda is an organization for college students preparing for careers in business and industry," a spokesman said.

Harvill to head local MS drive

The Mississippi Multiple Sclerosis Society's Hope Chest appeal in Hancock County will be headed by Ms. Pat Harvill of Waveland.

Harvill will be seeking volunteers to assist in the society's upcoming drive, according to Richard L. Redd of Jackson, state chairman.

Multiple sclerosis is a neurological disease affecting the brain and spinal cord. It is not contagious nor is it a mental disease.

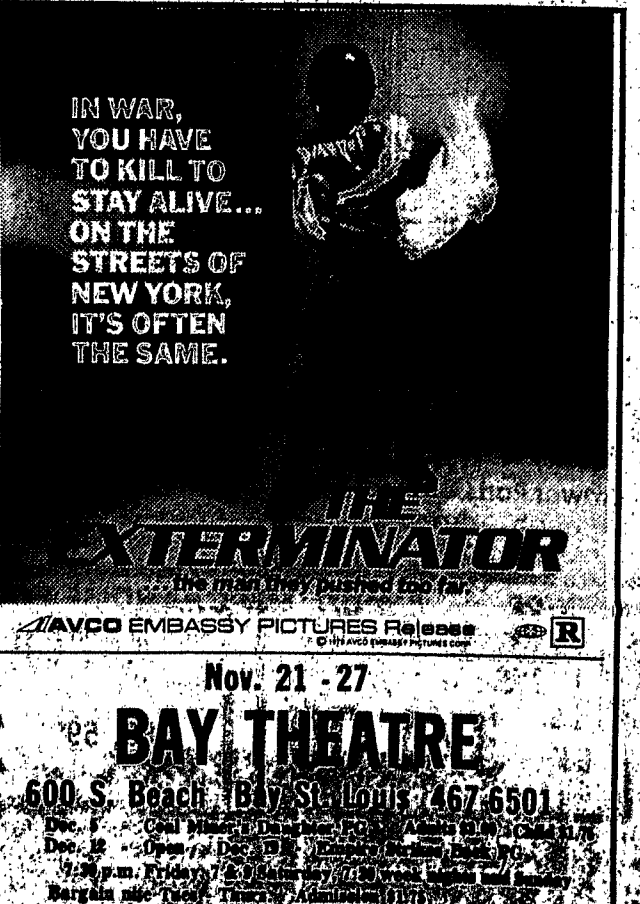

It has been called the "mysterious crippler of young adults" because it is usually first diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 40.

Technically, the disease attacks the myelin sheathing of the central nervous system, destroying it in patches.

The myelin sheath acts much like the insulation around telephone wires, and when it is destroyed, the flow of nerve impulses to and from the brain is interrupted or distorted.

The resultant symptoms from this destruction of myelin include paralysis, double vision, bladder or bowel problems, loss of balance, loss of coordination, and speech and hearing difficulties, among others.

New HGH administrator conditionally approved

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A new hospital administrator has been conditionally hired at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis.

The Hospital's Board of Trustees Tuesday night approved hiring Phillip W. Langston of Savannah, Tenn. for $32,000 per year pending satisfactory responses from references.

Langston is now administrator of Hardin County Hospital in Savannah. Interim administrator Lamar Brooks said if Langston is hired he will assume the Hancock General position in early January.

Brooks assumed the hospital position some two months ago when the trustees awarded Hospital Corp. of America Management Company of Nashville, Tenn. a three-year contract to operate the local hospital.

Langston was one of three candidates interviewed for the position, but hospital officials did not reveal the identity of the other two prospects.

After a 45-minute executive session with Langston Monday night, the board voted to recess until 6:30 p.m. Tuesday to meet with hospital medical staff representatives for that group's opinion.

Dr. Erlinda Alcaen of Bay St. Louis said at the Tuesday meeting, "Out of the three candidates Langston is the best."

Former Chief of Staff Dr. Sidney Chevis of Bay St. Louis added, "I was very impressed with him."

"The only hesitancy I would have would be if his references are not in order," Chevis noted.

Alcaen said Chief of Staff and Board Trustee Dr. Joseph Lee was also in favor of hiring Langston.

Board President Rev. Charles Johnson reported Langston did not give references because his employers were not aware he was seeking the Hancock position.

Trustee Brother Martin Hernandez, SC, said, "He told me he would not produce references at this time because he would later give references from members of the Savannah hospital board."

Board Attorney Robert Genin advised the board a conditional approval of Langston was legally acceptable and added, "I was impressed with him, he seems to know what he's doing."

"The thing that impressed me is that a lot of these applicants for these types of jobs will give you all the ice cream and cake, but what they can actually do is another thing. Langston simply said I'll do the job if you give me a chance," Genin explained.

Langston's resume states he earned a BS degree in general business administration from East Central State College in Ada, Okla.; a BS degree in hotel and restaurant administration from Oklahoma State University in Stillwater; and a MS degree in health planning-administration from University of Cincinnati in Ohio.

He was a U.S. Navy communications officer for the U.S.S. Betelgeuse in 1968-1969, Navy division officer for River Assault Squadron 15 in Vietnam in 1970, St. Thomas Hospital in Nashville management supervisor in 1971 and 1972, St. Thomas' administrative assistant from 1972-1974, and Hardin County General Hospital administrator since 1974.

Langston is 36 years old, married and has two children.

cope with these individuals. Critically ill patients are here and care needs to be given, but I think we can do this with a CCU staff."

Johnson agreed and stated, "Nurses are under the impression we can't take care of critical care patients."

Brooks added, "We've lost nurses because they felt they lacked training and qualifications to do the critical care jobs."

Trustee Conrad Mauffray inquired, "In furnishing CCU someone had mentioned there are portable units you can put in rooms without putting outlets in the walls."

Brooks replied, "We could do this, but we're not going to do this now."

Mauffray said, "The way he talked about it there were a number of advantages to this type of equipment."

Hill reported the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. has an extensive array of CCU equipment, but said the basic functions of the mechanisms 'is standard.'

"The equipment will work alright, but it is extremely important that we have qualified people to operate it," he said.

Also during the 6:30 p.m. Tuesday recess meeting in the hospital conference room, the board discussed efforts by Brooks to contract a full-time anesthesiologist.

In other business at the 7:30 p.m.

regular meeting Monday, the board:

—Accepted a recommendation by the medical staff to allow Dr. Alan Arrington on the hospital consulting staff for internal medicine and pulmonary consultation. Chief of Staff and Board Trustee Dr. Joseph Lee said Arrington would practice locally with Hill;

—Authorized a resolution requested by Brooks allowing the hospital to obtain items through the Mississippi Surplus Property Procurement Commission;

—Reaffirmed hospital management firm Hospital Corp. of America Management Company's employing Cathy Savage as nursing director;

—Accepted the October financial statement and docket as presented by Mauffray. He reported funds were low due to payment for annual excess sick leave to employees and a $10,000 hospital malpractice premium;

—Reviewed hospital patient statistics. The hospital's average daily census figures for October show 28 patients as compared to 29 in September and 34 in October, 1979. Brooks said at least 34 patients are needed for the hospital's optimum operation of 59-60 percent capacity; —Took under advisement four bids for a freezer which Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 139 in Bay St. Louis will purchase for the hospital.

having defeated Bay High 20-13 in their final game of the season. The Eagles lost a cliff hanger to Hancock 34-30 in a suspense filled contest. The overall record for St. John is 5-4, the second year in a row for a winning season.

Hancock Head Coach Irvin Favre felt that the Eagles were the best all-around team his Hawks played this season as they have a balanced offense in passing and running the football.

Favre said, "St. John's only has 24 members, but are loaded with talent. Many of the Eagles will be selected by colleges because of their fine play."

St. John's offense is engineered by senior quarterback Marvin Koury who has fired seven TD passes this season, in completing 64 of 128 attempts for 1,066 yards. Koury also rushed for seven touchdowns.

Koury's favorite receiver was Vincent Dauro who gathered in 20 passes for 495 yards which included four touchdowns. The passing of St. John is solidified by the running of Nickey Pitolo and Mike Ryan.

St. John's plays mostly Class AA and Class A schools in football because of a lack of schools in the area as small as them, they are rare.

St. John's had a total offensive output of 2,420 yards this season in scoring 24 touchdowns.

Beat Four High School near Waynesborough has a large backfield led by field general Darren Gatlin who tossed 12 TD's this season, with a record of 7-3.

Rickey Maye gathered in 25 passes this season from Gatlin for the honor of the leading receiver of the Beat Four squad.

The defense for the Waynesborough visitors is led by 215 pound defensive tackle Frank Cooley. The defensive squad averages 195 pounds.

The teams both compare in size on defense with Beat Four a little heavier in the backfield.

The Beat Four team is coached by Tony Britt, formerly a Bay St. Louis coach.

Tickets for the game can be purchased from Hancock North Central School or at the gate on game night. Kick-off is at 7:30 p.m.

Favre stated, "I think it will be a game of two well balanced teams. I hope a lot of folks will come out and support this memorial bowl game."

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A Bay St. Louis woman is in stable condition in Gulfport Memorial Hospital following a two-car accident on US-90 in Waveland.

Waveland Chief Investigator Robert (Poochie) Tartavouille reported Wednesday afternoon a two-car accident at the corner of McLaurin Street and US-90 injured Vera Pittman, 44, of Route 3, Box 768, Bay St. Louis.

"Brian P. Pittman, 21, of Bay St. Louis was driving south on McLaurin Street and apparently failed to yield the right-of-way while crossing US-90," Tartavouille said.

NSTL expands tour program

A public visitors' program at the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County has been enhanced to offer expanded capabilities to accommodate visitors, NSTL Manager Jerry Hlass said this week.

NSTL's visitors Center now features an updated exhibit area, films, video tapes and a presentation including all work aspects at the installation.

Hlass said the center is now open 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Monday through Friday (excluding holidays).

"Experienced personnel will be on hand to explain exhibits and describe activities underway at NSTL using actual hardware and models. An added attraction is two telescopes offering a view of the Space Shuttle Test Complex and other areas of research and development from the 90-foot tower above the Visitors Center," Hlass noted.

"On display at all times will be a lunar sample and a model of the versatile Space Shuttle scheduled for its first launch in March, 1981. Other exhibits include a display commemorating 150 years of operation by the U.S. Navy Oceanographic Office; a hurricane monitoring system developed by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration; and displays depicting activities of the U.S. Geological Survey, the U.S. Coast Guard Gulf Strike Team and NSTL's Earth Resources Laboratory," Hlass reported.

NSTL Public Affairs Officer Mack Herring said, "Exterior exhibits feature the Navy's Deepview, a two-man submersible research vessel, and an actual buoy used by NOAA's Data Buoy Office."

"The Visitors Center, a cooperative effort of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and other federal and state agencies resident at NSTL, has an overall theme of 'Discovering Space-Oceans-Earth.' The program is being closely coordinated with state hospitality centers and community leaders on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and St. Tammany Parish," Herring explained.

"In addition to general public visitors, school groups, civic organizations and other interested groups are invited to take advantage of this unique program. There is no admission charge and cameras are welcome," Herring noted.

Bay Council requests damage claims

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay St. Louis City Council heard a report from engineer Joe Brown III, that the 1979 Small Cities Project is just about complete.

Brown said, "The contractor just has a few minor things to do and should be finished by Friday."

Council agreed to meet Friday at 4:30 p.m. to check over the project with the engineer and contractor.

Susan Tolan, acting city clerk, was authorized to publish a notice notifying any residents of the area having complaints to turn them into the mayor's office.

Nicholas (Mac) Haas, local attorney, appeared before the Council in behalf of the Seashore Utilities, Inc.

Haas inquired as to what was the city's intentions in regards to the renewing of the contract with Seashore Utility in Hancock Heights.

It was recommended that Haas and Council Attorney Joseph Gex discuss the matter and re-appear before the next Council meeting.

Council was unanimous in not renewing the contract with Seashore Utility at their last regular meeting.

The Utility Company has been receiving 50 percent of the water rates collected for the 50 or so customers in the subdivision.

The maintenance was by Bay St. Louis.

Haas stated that the subdivision was in the newly annexed area and was outside when it was developed.

Question arose as to whether all of the Cedar Point Subdivision was in the annexed area.

In other business, Charles Hirstius, representative for the Spanish Acres Civic and Social Association, questioned the Council if any action had been taken on four problems discussed at their last regular meeting.

Hirstius had submitted a letter to the Council at that meeting requesting profiles of the existing ditches in the subdivision now be made since the overgrowth had been removed.

A secondary exit from the subdivision was also included in the request. A possibility of the City purchasing adjacent property owned by a Chiniche family could also solve a playground need by the area residents.

Another major area the spokesman has been requesting help on is the Webb Street dump.

Tolan did contact the Board of Health representative who told her that a second inspection of the dump had been made by the agency and they were in the process of drafting a letter to the City turning the matter over to them.

The State Board of Health had given the dump owner 60 days to clean up the area.

Council also heard from Phillip Williams, spokesman for the Concerned Citizens of Hancock County.

Williams requested that the City do something about a condition existing on the Old Spanish Trail between Citizen and Sycamore Streets.

He said, "There have been far too many accidents in the area known as 'devils elbow,' even with the Bay police writing numerous tickets."

Council was unanimous in requesting the Gulf Regional Planning Commission to make a survey of the area.

Council President Pete Benvenuti introduced Edward (Eddie) Favre, the new city clerk and finance officer.

Favre said, "I am happy to get the job, it is a challenge and I am looking forward to it."

Susan Tolan, deputy clerk, has been acting city clerk after being appointed by the Council after the resignation of Kelly McQueen.

Favre will assume his position today as the new clerk and finance officer.

defendant must be notified of all his rights.

Those rights include the right to present witnesses in his favor, right to question those witnesses, and the right to cross examine witnesses not in his favor.

According to attorney Gerald Gex, who represented the school board, the notice sent to the parents of the student did not mention these rights.

"They did include a statement of the offense and the right for legal counsel," Gex said.

Gex recommended the board dismiss the case at the November 19 hearing for that reason.

According to Adams, the student was reported to HNC Junior High Principal Phillip Terrell on October 15 by a fellow student who said he had witnessed the defendant smoking pot.

Terrell went to the class room and brought the student to Donald Hillman, the senior high principal.

The student denied possession at the time and refused a search, Adams said.

The student was 'expelled on the spot' when pot was found on the floor of the principal's office, Adams said.

"No one saw him take it off his person," Adams added.

According to Hillman, the student is now in violation of the school attendance policy.

The policy states that a student cannot pass a nine week term if he has been absent five days. He will not pass a semester term if he is absent more than ten days.

Hillman said a letter will be sent to the student's parents informing them of their sons status.

"It will be up to the parents and the school board to decide if the policy will be enforced," Hillman explained.

Also present at Wednesday's hearing were Board Members Johnny Banks of district five, Woodrow Ladner of district four who is president and Oris Ladner of district one.

Woodrow Ladner voiced a strong objection to the student being allowed back in school.

"I voted for the ten day in-school suspension only because of the recommendation by Mr. Gex."

Ladner asked Hillman what the repercussions would be when the students found the alleged violator back in school with a ten day in-school suspension.

When Hillman said he did not know, Ladner said, "I think they will see it as a victory for them, not the result of the legal technicality it really is."

"School is intended for educational, not playground purposes," Ladner said. "I want to make a strong recommendation to this board that any kid recommended for expulsion in the future, will be expelled."

Adams pointed out the student had been out of school for five weeks.

Banks said it was the purpose of the school board to help kids not harm them.

"Don't put this kid out on the street. It will not help the cause at all, and will only hurt the kid."

"I say give this man a second chance," Banks said.

In consideration of what the student had been through, Banks said, "He may set a good example for the other kids."

Gex said, "Currently the courts are trying to impress on the public that the best place for a child is in school, regardless of what he does."

Waveland accident injures one

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A Bay St. Louis woman is in stable condition in Gulfport Memorial Hospital following a two-car accident on US-90 in Waveland.

Waveland Chief Investigator Robert (Poochie) Tartavouille reported Wednesday afternoon a two-car accident at the corner of McLaurin Street and US-90 injured Vera Pittman, 44, of Route 3, Box 768, Bay St. Louis.

"Brian P. Pittman, 21, of Bay St. Louis was driving south on McLaurin Street and apparently failed to yield the right-of-way while crossing US-90," Tartavouille said.

Vera Pittman, the driver's mother, was a passenger in the car and was injured in the accident. She was transported by Mobile Medic to Hancock General with possible head and leg injuries," the chief investigator explained.

A Mobile Medic spokesman said in Gulfport late Wednesday, the woman was transferred to the Gulfport Memorial.

A hospital spokesman said late Wednesday Vera Pittman was in stable condition in the emergency room with a large head gash.

Tartavouille said the Pittman vehicle hit another car traveling west on US-90 driven by Vernell C. Hoda, 37, of Route 1, Box 380, Pass Christian.

The chief investigator reported Sherry Ladner, 31, of Route 1, Box 382, Pass Christian was a passenger in the Hoda vehicle at the time of the accident.

"The left front of the Hoda vehicle hit the left side of the Pittman vehicle extensively damaging both autos," Tartavouille added.

Waveland Patrolman Chuck James, Mobile Medic and N.A. Perniciaro Wrecker Service responded to the accident.

Garden club hears landscaping hints

By Bobbie Goodell
PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN:
Bill Kimbrell of the Waveland Garden Center was guest speaker at Bay Waveland Garden Club's regular meeting Nov. 13 at the Garden Center in Bay St. Louis.

He gave members many useful hints on informal landscaping. He also reminded the group that good soil is the secret of success in any planting and soil testing is available at the County Extension Office.

Group President Alice Holmes announced the garden club has been awarded third place for its scrapbook from the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs.

Betty Burnett and Pat Hanham announced Gardens of the Month which are Mr.

and Mrs. Edward Osbourne, 1900 N. Beach Blvd., Bay St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Evans, 249 Farrar St., Waveland.

Emily deMontfuzin told the group of a treat she had last spring when a flock of Indigo Buntings visited her bird feeder. These brilliantly colored birds rested in the Bay Area for about two weeks after their winter stay in Mexico.

Pat Schott announced there are presently 37 senior citizens participating in the Club's Garden Therapy Program.

Hostess Chairman Mildred Walz introduced hostesses E. Pinke Baxter, Betty Breaux, Norma McKenna, Sadie Nicaise, Billie Rawlins, Dot Sutton, Agnes Thompkins, and Frances Voight.

SSC musicians perform on TV talk show

Some St. Stanislaus High School musicians and their band director recently appeared on 'Good Morning, South Mississippi,' a Gulf Coast television program seen weekdays at 9 a.m. on WLOX-TV Channel 13 in Biloxi.

Tommy Zanca, Fred Ulmer, and Skip Horne, all juniors at the Bay St. Louis school performed 'La Paloma,' as a marimba trio.

The three recently competed in a solo and ensemble contest in Gulfport, earning a superior rating and a chance to compete on a state level.

The trio has also traveled to Hattiesburg for a state competition where they received a superior rating.

St. Stanislaus Band Director, H. Davis Williams appeared with the trio on the show and was interviewed by the show's hostess Barbara Salloom. The boys performed their award-winning composition and also closed the show performing 'Minuet in D minor' by J. S. Bach.

RSVP report

The Kiln Veterans of Foreign Wars furnished a turkey dinner with all the trimmings to 22 Senior Citizens Thursday at the Kiln VFW Hall.

Retired Senior Volunteer Program volunteers Theresa Head, Effie Mazarakis and Rena Travira of Kiln helped cook and serve the food.

A turkey was baked by Volunteer Geraldine Lang of Bay St. Louis.

The RSVP staff, director, Theresa James, bookkeeper-secretary Lucille Witter and driver Charles Johnson, helped serve and clean up.

Head stated Friday, "A special thanks is extended to Commander Cleo Dunherst and Quartermaster Wallace Haas, who were responsible for providing the hall and food. They were our honored guests for this occasion."

"The Kiln hall is a station of RSVP where a social is held once a month for volunteers and seniors in the Kiln area."

"We have a lot of fun on these occasions and on special holidays the VFW usually provides refreshments for us," Head explained.

Local chiropractor attends symposiums

Dr. William Powell, a Bay St. Louis chiropractor, has been selected to be a participating doctor in Practice Consultants, Inc., a professional chiropractic organization.

Dr. and Mrs. William Powell traveled to Atlanta, Ga. recently to attend an initial study session.

A Practice Consultant spokesman said recently, "Powell has been a probationary associate member for the past few months, while he has been submitting research papers for our group to evaluate."

"The group regularly conducts three-day symposiums in Atlanta, Ga. involving on-going educational and research programs in advanced phases of chiropractic work, oriented toward instructing members in becoming better qualified 'Family Doctors,'" the spokesman reported.

"Each symposium contains new facets of chiropractic care for the whole family as well as detailed study of the latest methods of treatment," the spokesman added.

Powell said during the coming year, he and his wife will be making regular visits to Atlanta, and he feels these symposiums will enable him to render a superior service to his patients.

Nine inducted in OLA National Honor Society

Some nine scholastically outstanding Our Lady's Academy students were inducted into the Martin Maloney Chapter of the National Honor Society recently at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis.

During the church ceremony short speeches were presented about scholarship, service, leadership, and character, by several of last year's inductees.

Last year's inductees include President Melissa Alcala, Kathy Martinovich, Edie Yarborough, Virginia Macmillan and Suzanne Waits.

Presentation of new members and reciting of the pledge followed the speeches.

New members are Diane Tilton, Kathy Eckert, Wendy Erichsen, Hope Chiniche, Carrie Comeaux, Kim Furman, Krissy Koch, Renee Rosetti and Beth Schmidt. OLA Principal Mike Ryan then congratulated the students.

A reception followed for OLA faculty, National Honor Society members and their families.

The ceremony and reception were conducted by the second year NHS members and Moderator Mary Alice Benvenuti.

Pass club sponsors first Coast senior ladies event

By EDGAR PEREZ
A stiff north wind Tuesday couldn't stop an eager crowd of some 68 ladies from 12 golf clubs in Jackson, New Orleans and across the Mississippi Gulf Coast from participating in the first senior ladies tournament to be held on the Coast.

The event was sponsored by the Pass Christian Isles Ladies Golf Association and played on that group's home course.

The tournament was the brain child of Janice Preble who served as tournament chairman.

"I knew senior ladies tournaments were being played in other areas and I just felt it was time for the first one on the Mississippi Gulf Coast," Preble told the participants during an awards presentation and luncheon Tuesday afternoon in the PCI club house.

Marsha Sierra of Waveland took top honors in the Championship Flight with a low gross score of 80. Second low gross was scored by Irene Flavian of Biloxi with an 85.

Low putter in the championship flight was Ruth Allen of Jackson with 27.

Closest-to-the-hole winners were Allen and Aggie Richardson. Longest drive on the ninth hole was snatched by Joyce Burk.

Other winners include:
First Flight
Patricia Ingles, low gross, 86; Evelyn Boyle, second low gross, 89; Violet Peterson, low net, 71; Joyce Keenan, second low net, 73; and Helen Sinclair-Hall, low putts, 27.

Second Flight
Genny Holzer, low gross, 97; Rosemary Lorio, second low gross, 98; Xavia McGee, low net, 77; Jo DeBever, second low net, 79; and Eleanor Welty, low putts, 23.

Third Flight
Betty Tarkington, low gross, 93 and field draw net 67 with a 26 handicap; Pat Randall, second low gross, 99; Norma Cipiano, low net, 73; Pattie Jeaser, second low net, 76; and Marian Lichty, low putts, 30.

Fourth Flight
Jan Smith, low gross, 101; Terrie Rachuba, second low gross, 102; Ada Winchester, low net, 74; Nan Parker, second low net, 76; and Margie Tractman, low putts, 27.

Fifth Flight
Vivienne Brown, low gross, 105; Janet Zeringer, second low gross, 105; Doris Ganimill, low net, 69; Mary Murdoch, second low net, 76; and Helen Farrelly, low putts, 28.

Conference luminaries featured in Bay Boosters' Mullet Bowl

By EDGAR PEREZ
Pascagoula River Conference's most valuable lineman Mark Johnson, and most valuable back Harold Gillum, both of Bay Junior High, are among the stars in a firmament of talent to be featured in tonight's Mullet Bowl at Tiger Stadium here.

Also expected to see action when BJHS encounters the Harrison Central Junior High eleven are all-conference Tigers Peter Bell, Mark Gambino, Dwyane Necaise, and Tony Mannion.

Adding depth to the roster of Tigers expected to see action are all-conference honorable mention winners David Carver, David McIver and Earl Terry.

"We hope all of our fans will come out and help support the team in this most important game," said Bay High coach Cleveland Williams.

The Tigers will enter the fray with seven wins and three losses for the season against a 6-3 record for the Harrison Central Rebels.

Bay High finished second in the conference behind St. Martin and d'Iberville who tied for first with 5-1 conference records.

The Tigers finished the conference season with four wins and two losses, ahead of Vancleave and Pass Christian, both with 3-3.

Harrison Central's Rebels finished second in the Gulf Coast Conference behind George County.

Pre-game admission tickets priced at $1.50 will remain on sale by Mullet Bowl queen contestants through 3 p.m.

today.

Tickets at the gate will be $2. Faculty passes and Tiger season tickets will not be honored, according to a Booster spokesman.

Ceremonies preceding a 7:30 p.m. kickoff will include announcement of the queen contest winner and crowning of the queen.

Proceeds will support Tiger Booster Club projects such as sports awards and banquets as well as financing of the athletic field house at Tiger Stadium.

Pass tourney opens tonight

Pass Christian High School is sponsoring a round robin basketball tournament beginning tonight at the school gym and continuing through Saturday.

Pass Coach David Lipscomb said four games will be played each night.

In the opening round, Long Beach and Bay St. Louis girls play at 5 p.m., the Long Beach and Bay St. Louis boys at 6:15, the Pass Christian and St. Martin girls at 7:30 and the Pass Christian and St. Martin boys at 8:45.

Matchups for Friday are the St. Martin and Long Beach girls at 5 p.m., the St. Martin and Long Beach boys at 6:15, the Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian girls at 7:30 and the Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian boys at 8:45 p.m.

SEA COAST ECHO-THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1980-1B

Nelson, Depreo honored by PRC Wildcat gridders

Kelvin McLeMore, Pearl River College's hardhitting sophomore linebacker from Lumberton, has added permanent team captain to his growing list of honors here at PRC.

McLeMore was voted by his teammates as the 1980 PRC Permanent Team Captain with offensive stalwarts David Depreo, guard from St. Stanislaus and Oscar Craft, center, from Sumrall being voted co-captains of the 6-4 Wildcats.

McLeMore was also selected by his teammates as the outstanding defensive back and his prowess on the field also earned him a starting position on the South All-Star Team, which is a vote of confidence from other Mississippi junior college coaches.

The 6-0, 190 pound standout had 74 tackles for the year plus 41 assists. He also recovered two fumbles and snagged two interceptions. Craft was voted his team's outstanding offensive lineman and he also nailed down a position on the South's All-Star Team. The South All-Stars will meet the North All-Stars in a game Thanksgiving afternoon at Hinds Junior College in Raymond.

David Russell, a big 245 pound defensive lineman from Picayune was voted PRC's Outstanding Defensive Lineman. His credentials included 39 individual tackles and 24 assists.

Pearl River's Outstanding Offensive Back Award will be shared by tailbacks Denist Nelson, sophomore from Hancock North Central and Randall Colette, a freshman from Cecelia, La.

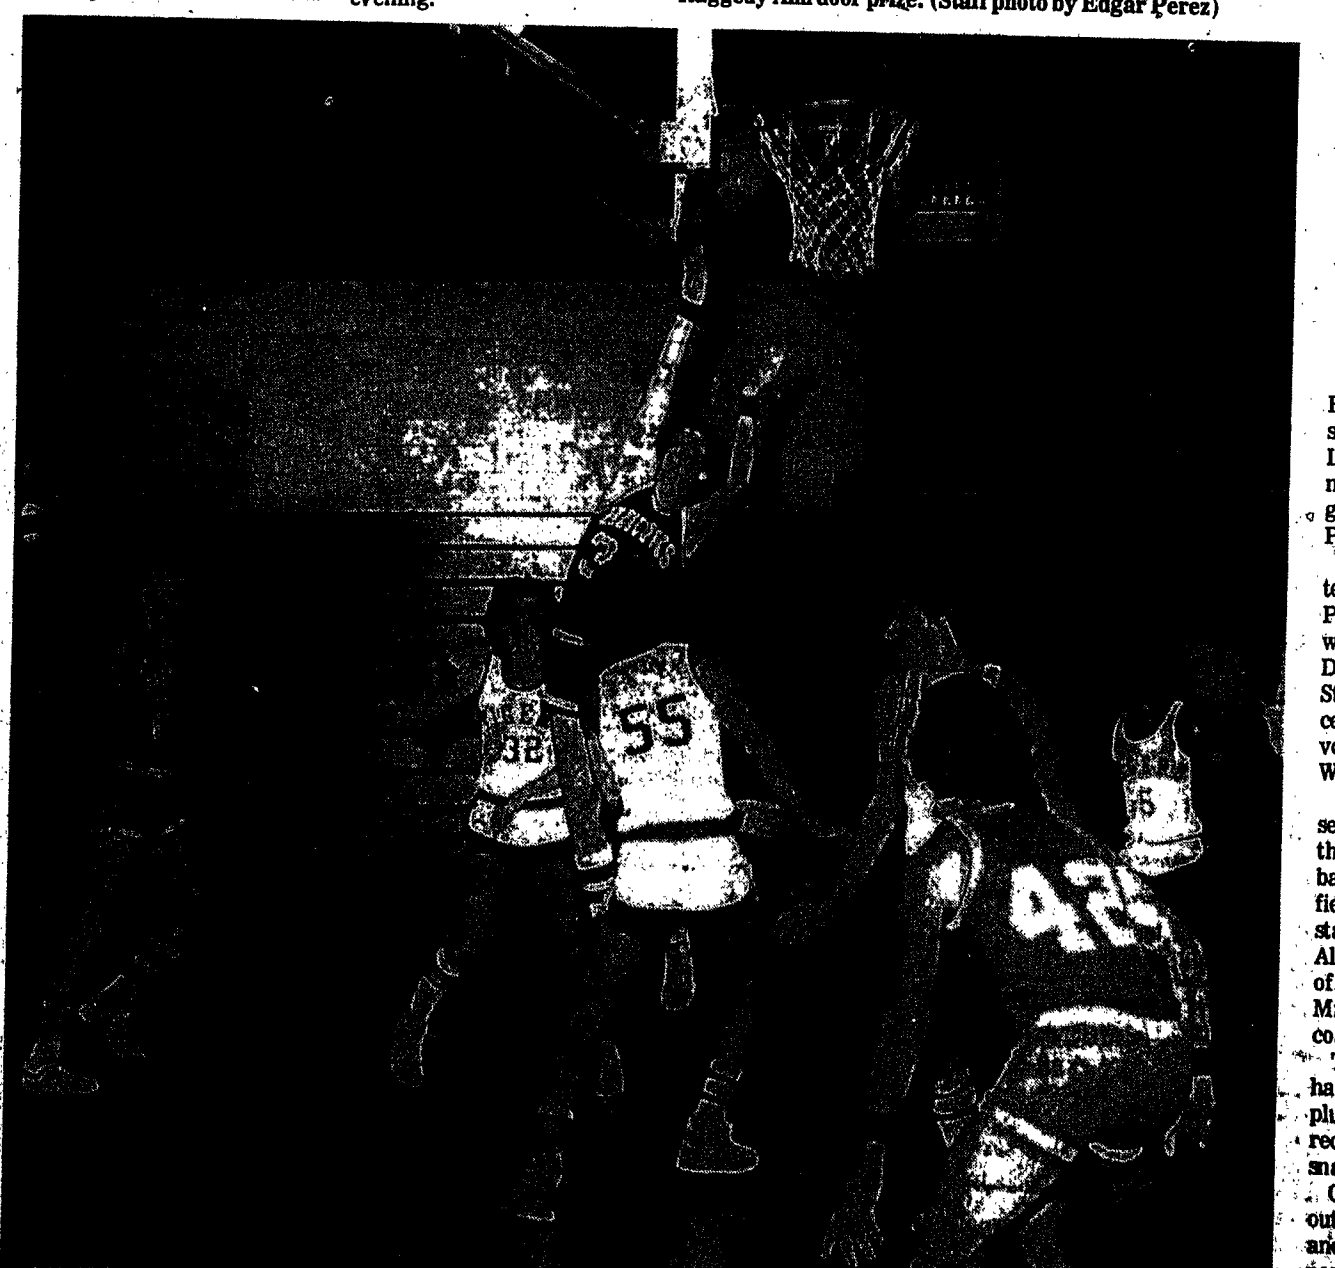

Colette was the Wildcats' leading rusher as he picked up 606 total yards for the year in only 77 carries. He averaged an amazing 7.9 yards per rush and scored four touchdowns. Colette's biggest night was against the Southwest Bears when he rushed for a season high 224 yards.

Nelson was the team's second leading rusher, picking up 440 yards on 78 attempts and posting a 5.6 yard average. Nelson was second in receiving as he grabbed 13 aeriels for another 189 yards and two touchdowns. Nelson will also see action for the South All-Stars.

Bobby Stockstill, the sure-footed kicker for the Wildcats was voted by his teammates as the most outstanding special team's player.

JUMP BALL — Bay High Tiger Don Diboll, No. 35, and HNC Hawk Douglas Ladner, No. 34, rise to the occasion of a jump ball during Friday's Hawk-Tiger game at HNC gym. The Hawks took the Tigers in the season opener, 66-45. Hawkettes also dumped the Tigerettes in an earlier game the same evening, 45-38. (Staff photo by Edgar Perez)

DUNKIN' DOUGLAS — Hancock North Central Hawk Douglas Ladner, No. 34, goes up for two of eight points he scored against Bay High's Tigers at HNC gym Friday when the Hawks scored a 66-45 victory to open the 1980 season for both teams. Also in on the action are Hawk Zachary Ladner, No. 25, and Neal Ladner, No. 42; and Tigers Keith Johnson, No. 32; Don Diboll, No. 35; and Don Acker, No. 5. HNC Girls also won Friday against the Tigerettes, 45-38. (Staff photo by Edgar Perez)

BULL REDS—Hugh L. Smith of Waveland displays 28.5 and 25 pound bull reds he caught last week in the Louisiana marshes on an expedition out of Bordages Marina on Bayou Cadet in Hancock County. Smith reports the reds were taken with live bait on ultralight tackle, requiring some 30 minutes each to land. Also on the trip were Joe Repola, left, Al Koeneim, right, and not pictured, Eldon Gilly, all of Waveland. (Photo by Eldon Gilly)

Deer gun season to open Saturday

Mississippi's first gun season on deer will open Saturday and extend through Dec. 1 in at least a portion of all the state's 82 counties.

An estimated 200,000 hunters will enjoy the long-awaited season, according to the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation.

During the first of the state's three gun seasons on deer, hunters may use dogs to run deer in most regions of the state but still hunting only is permitted in all or parts of some counties.

The hunting season digest or the conservation officers should be consulted for this information, according to a Department spokesman.

Other season dates are Dec. 13-26 (no dogs); and Dec. 27-Jan. 15 (with dogs in certain counties).

"There are restrictions about where hunters can and cannot run dogs in certain counties," commented law enforcement chief Philip Strong. "Hunters should check carefully about where to hunt and where to turn their dogs out."

Last year state deer hunters harvested approximately 90,000 white-tailed deer across Mississippi.

Nearly eight percent of this total, or 6,504 deer were taken on the 28 public wildlife management areas.

Figures by the Department indicate that the best season last year for deer hunters was the December-January period.

"The success last year was very good, and if weather conditions permit, hunting should be even better this year, in view of our expanding deer herd," wildlife coordinator Edsel Cliburn explained. Biologists estimate the state's deer herd now at just over 600,000 animals.

The bag limit on deer is one adult buck per day with no season limit. The MDWC defines a legal adult buck as one with visible antlers of hardened, honey material having broken naturally through the skin.

Deer hunters are reminded that they must wear in full view a hunter orange hat, cap or vest during any open gun season on deer. In addition, agency law enforcement officials are reminding hunters it is unlawful to trespass on the posted lands of others without written permission of the landowners.

Shooting hours for deer hunting are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset.

QUAIL HUNTING

Thursday, Nov. 27 may be Thanksgiving Day for thousands of Mississippians, but it also will be quail day for many state hunters. The bobwhite season opens then and extends through Feb. 28.

Some 60,000 shooters are believed to hunt quail in the state each year. The average bird harvest is expected to exceed 1.3 million, depending on weather conditions, according to the state Department of Wildlife Conservation.

This is the first time that quail shooters will be allowed to hunt until Feb. 28. The last session of Legislature extended the hunting period.

USM cagers to open against USL Dec. 1

Southern Mississippi basketball coach M. K. Turk says his 1980-81 Golden Eagles are "on schedule" and that he has been "impressed and pleased" with the competitiveness and progress of veterans and newcomers alike.

"Yes, I'd say we're on schedule insofar as bringing our total game together," said the coach whose '79-80 club had the best record (17-10) since USM became a major independent in 1968-69. "We've had good competition since we started practice nearly a month ago and have been impressed with the way the old and new players have challenged each other."

"Hopefully in the final two weeks before our December 1 opener (against Southwestern Louisiana here) we will be able to put the 'finishing touches' on our game and be ready for a fast start."

Toughness of the December segment of their schedule demands that the Turkmen get off to a rapid start. After the opener against USL, which administered two of last year's 10 Eagle setbacks, they'll face Eastern Kentucky at home and then meet Memphis State (road), Oklahoma (home), Mississippi State (in Jackson) and Arkansas (road), in that order. And, after a home match against Indiana-State-Evansville, they'll close out the month in tournament play (Birmingham Classic).

Currently, four veterans are holding starters' status, with a pair of rookies battling for the fifth slot. The front line has 6-5 junior Joe Dawson, last season's top producer in points and rebounds, at the power forward; 6-8 senior Ron Jackson at center; and 6-4 senior Eddie Jiles, a fast finisher in '79-80, at the small forward post. Jackson was the second best rebounder and fourth-leading scorer last year and Jiles was third in both categories.

Donald Stinchcomb, a 6-3 senior holding three letters, is the heir to his old high school teammate's all-important point-guard slot. Kenny Smith, sometimes tabbed "the franchise" during his four-year Eagle career, and "Stinch" were prep stars at College Park (Ga.) High before moving to USM along with another former CPH great, Jerome Arnold. Stinchcomb played in every game last season and was a starter nine times.

Leading at the "second guard" post are freshmen Edgar Eason (6-4) and Curtis Green (6-1), former prep sensations in Tuscaloosa (Ala.) and Memphis (Tenn.), respectively. "We're looking for big contributions from both of them," Turk offered. Junior college grad Deora Marsh (6-6), an Ohio resident who played at Chattahoochee Valley Community College in Phenix City, Ala., is making his presence felt as a challenger at both forward posts.

A current depth chart probably would read thusly: Power Forward - Dawson, Jiles, Marsh; Small Forward - Jiles, Marsh, Eason; Center - Jackson, Dawson, freshman Paul Crowley (6-3½); Point Guard - Stinchcomb, freshman Nicky Fruge (6-1), Eason; Second Guard - Eason or Green, sophomore Larry Boyd (6-3).

Ole Miss hires sports publicist

John Tishler, former director of sports publications with Jim Host & Associates in Lexington, Ky. has accepted a position with the University of Mississippi Athletic Department as associate sports information director.

Tishler, who worked four years in the Vanderbilt Sports Information Department while getting his undergraduate degree there, began work for Ole Miss Nov. 3.

With the Rebels, Tishler will serve in several areas, including working on football and basketball programs, the basketball brochure, and traveling with the football, basketball and baseball teams.

Lady Wildcat cagers vie in Jones tourney

Pearl River College's Lady Wildcats have found a scoring punch in the 1980-81 season and it has enabled the resurging PRC girls to post a 2-1 record in the early going.

Last week the Lady Wildcats posted lopsided wins over LSU-A 77-55 and Meridian 88-54, before losing to powerful East Mississippi 82-69.

"I'm really pleased with our performance so far," said Billy Holmes, the Lady Wildcats' head coach. "Everyone is working as a team and it has certainly shown up here in the early going of the season."

Last year the Lady Wildcats posted a 6-19 mark and a 3-16 ledger the year before that. Three years ago the Lady Wildcats won seven ballgames while losing 11.

The Lady Wildcats will wind up play before the Thanksgiving holidays in a tournament at Jones.

Tuesday, Dec. 2 the PRC girls will play Southwest before their encounter with Gulf Coast Thursday, Dec. 4.

Rebel, Bulldog rivalry dates back to 1901

Ole Miss will play the Mississippi State Bulldogs in Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson Saturday with kickoff set for 1:30 p.m.

The Rebels upset Tennessee 20-9 last week before more than 50,000 fans in cold and rainy Memphis.

Mississippi State secured a Sun Bowl berth with a 55-31 whipping of LSU before more than 48,000 in Jackson.

A crowd of more than 55,000 is expected this week.

Ole Miss leads the overall series 43-27-6. The Rebels lead the SEC play 32-10-4.

The series was begun in 1901 with a 17-0 MSU win in Starkville. For years the game has been dubbed the "Golden Egg Classic" for the egg-shaped trophy which the winning team receives.

Last year, Ole Miss, coming off a stunning 44-20 upset of Tennessee, edged past the Bulldogs 14-9 before 46,021 fans in Jackson.

The winning TD came with 7:28 left in the contest on a 29-yard pass from John Fourcade to Ken Toler.

Leon Perry led the Rebels ground attack with 110 yards and a touchdown on 23 carries. Fourcade was 11-17-0 for 143 yards in the passing department, while Toler led all receivers with three catches for 56 yards.

The Rebels Saturday will operate from the Split Back Veer and "I" Formation. Mississippi State uses the "Wingbone," a form of the wishbone that utilizes the talents of wingback Mardye McDole.

"Mississippi State has had a great year and they capped it off with an invitation to the Sun Bowl. State is an excellent team and doesn't have any apparent weaknesses," said Ole Miss head coach Steve Sloan.

Junior quarterback John Fourcade needs only 95 yards total offense to break Archie Manning's Ole Miss record of total offense in one season. Manning had 2,264 in 1969. Fourcade has 2,170 this year.

Manning also holds the career mark of 5,576 yards. Fourcade has 4,872, needing 705 to break the record.

Rebel receiver Ken Toler, a senior from Jackson, needs 18 yards to move to second on the Rebel Career receiving yardage list. The 6-2, 192-pound Toler currently has 1,178 yards for his career, behind Floyd Franks' 1,707 and Curtis Weathers' 1,196.

The pre-dentistry major leads the Rebels in receiving this year with 529 yards, and in scoring with nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Ole Miss, as a team, needs 21 yards against Mississippi State to set a new team total offense record. The current mark was set by the 1961 squad with 4,192. The 1980 Rebels have 3,962 yards total offense.

Ole Miss overwhelmed Tennessee with an aggressive defense last weekend in Memphis. Shearheaded by freshman linebacker Lee Cole's eight tackles, one fumble recovery and an interception, and sophomore linebacker Keith Fourcade's seven tackles, one fumble recovery and an interception, the Rebels held the Vols to just 187 yards total offense, including just 84 yards on the ground.

Ole Miss is outscoring all opponents in the second quarter by a 95-54 margin. Overall, the Rebels are outscoring opponents 249 points to 247.

Ole Miss currently holds a five-game winning streak over the Bulldogs. Included in that period are two games won by forfeit from MSU. The last Mississippi State win over the Rebels was in 1974, 31-13.

Wildcats win big to close season

Pearl River College's Wildcats upset the undefeated and untied Northeast Tigers 27-17 Saturday night in the final contest of the 1980 season.

PRC's win over the Tigers, who were ranked number one in the nation last week by the Junior College Gridwire, allowed the Wildcats to finish the year with a winning 6-4 ledger, including three consecutive victories.

The Wildcats jumped to a 17-0 halftime lead and then poured more points on in the fourth quarter to untrack the North Division Champion Tigers.

A vicious and stingy defense led by linebacker Kelvin McLemore and tackle David Dearman stymied the Tigers' explosive offense in the first half.

Northeast had nine offensive possessions in the initial half, with the PRC defense forcing the potent Tigers to punt four times.

Two other drives ended with interceptions, while another two series were stopped due to fumbles. The Wildcats also blocked one punt in the first half of play.

Pearl River's score came on a 32 yard field goal by Bobby Stockstill and an electrifying 25 yard-punt return by defensive back Bobby Moorhead.

With 5:36 to go in the second quarter, quarterback Lance Larson passed to John Bissell for 48 yards down to the two yard line.

Bob Colette then punched it over, and after the sure-footed Stockstill booted, the Wildcats led 17-0 at the break.

Northeast made a comeback in the third quarter after taking the kickoff and marching 74 yards in 15 plays. Anthony Norman scooted in over right end from eight yards out and Richard Mathis kicked the PAT to cut the PRC lead to 17-7.

The Wildcats kept the ball for only three downs before punting and the Tigers were again in business. This time the Northeast bunch settled for a 32-yard field goal by Mathis. But with 1:52 left in the third quarter the top ranked Tigers were down only 17-10.

Steve Dees gave the Wildcats a little breathing room early in the final quarter as he made a super catch in the endzone for six points.

Lance Larson was facing a fourth and 23 situation from the 28 yard line when he left a long strike to the heavily covered Dees in the end zone.

Pearl River's defense then picked up the slack, and turned the momentum again toward the Poplarville based "Cats. With 4:44 to go in the season, Stockstill kicked a 28-yard field goal and PRC regained its seventeen point advantage, 27-10.

Northeast's final points came on a halfback pass from Mike Williams to Alfred Coffee from 10 yards out. Mathis kicked and the Tigers trailed 27-17 with 2:35 remaining.

Sophomore tailback Denist Nelson had a good night, picking up 72 yards on seven attempts. His big play of the night was a 43-yard ramble late in the contest which gave the Wildcats excellent field position.

Colette netted 49 yards on 10 attempts, including one touchdown.

Comfort horses win two at Downs

PEARL RIVER — The first face on Sunday's 16-race program at Oak Downs turned out to be the closest.

In a 350-yard test, Reverend John, trained by Doug Robbins, nipped Omega Diana, owned and trained by John Paul Amacker, by a nose.

Reverend John was clocked in 18.66 seconds while Omega Diana finished at 18.665.

In the afternoon's second-closest race, Deal One More, owned by Frankie Comfort, barely nudged Lynn Morgan's Boney at the wire. Deal One More was timed in 19.115 seconds while Boney turned in a 19.14 clocking.

In the 5-furlong 12th, Holiday's Goal and Teddy's Echo battled head and head the entire oval, but at the finish line it was Teddy's Echo, owned by Frank Comfort, winning by a neck.

The winner was timed in 1:06.58.

Competition among the jockeys was keen Sunday at Oak Downs' leading rider, JoAnn Boatwright, of Cantonment, Fla., visited the winner's circle five times.

Ray Robbins of Moss Point, Miss., and Stephone Spurlock of Baton Rouge each had four wins. Marty Comfort of the Fenton community in Hancock County, nabbed two victories while Charlie Silkwood of Gulfport claimed one.

Next Sunday's action at Oak Downs will feature futurity races in three different age groups of quarterhorses and thoroughbreds.

Sunday's results

AFRO-AMERICAN ROYALTY—Pearl River Junior College's Afro-American Club recently elected David Mitchell of Petal and Cynthia Jackson of Bay St. Louis as its 1980-81 Afro-American Queen and King. Mitchell and Jackson were recently featured in PRC's Homecoming Parade and the student newspaper.

Steve Nunn clicking with PRC Wildcats

Pearl River College's Wildcats opened its 1980-81 basketball season with two home wins last week but have since dropped three road encounters.

The Pearl River boys took a narrow 69-66 decision from LSU-Alexander and a hard fought 83-71 victory over Meridian and then lost to Southwest Invitational Tournament.

Monday night the Wildcats lost to East Mississippi at Scooba 63-46.

"Our shooters just aren't putting it in the bucket," said Billy Holmes, PRC's head coach, "and without a strong inside game we must have great performance from the wing and guard positions."

Pearl River's tallest players are sophomore John Fells (6'4) of Picayune and freshman Steve Nunn (6'2) of Hancock North Central. "We will have a battle under the boards," Holmes said, "we're giving away three or four inches every ballgame."

Freshman Renee Brown, Lafayette, La.; Nunn and Fells are the Wildcats' leading scorers. Brown and Fells are averaging a dozen points per contest while Nunn is chipping in 10 per game.

The two best scoring performances of the season were recorded by Brown with a 23 point effort against Meridian and Fells' 21 point performance against Southwest.

Nunn also added 20 points against the Co-Lin Wolves.

The Wildcats will enter a tournament this week at Jones Junior College and then continue its season after Thanksgiving with a road contest against Southwest Dec. 2 and home game against Gulf Coast Dec. 4.

Football events for kids slated on USM campus

The University of Southern Mississippi and Wendy's Restaurant have scheduled Lil' Eagle Day activities Saturday of the USM campus.

Lil' Eagle Day will feature an afternoon of athletic competition for boys and girls ages 8-13 prior to the 7 p.m. football clash between the USM Golden Eagles and the Louisville Cardinals.

Registration will be held from noon until 1 p.m. at the Intramural Field just west of the USM Coliseum. Competitions will follow in running, passing and kicking events.

The age categories for competing youngsters will be 8-9, 10-11 and 12-13 year olds.

Trophies will be awarded to the first place winner in each category. There will be free T-shirts for the first entrants and a free Wendy's hamburger and coke.

Participants will also receive a free ticket to the Louisville game and will be eligible for specially reduced tickets for their parents.

For additional information about the Lil' Eagle Day call the Intramural-Recreational Sports Department at USM at (601) 266-4247.

Rebel golfers

miss Dixie tourney cut

The Ole Miss golf team placed 19th out of 28 teams in the prestigious Dixie Intercollegiate Golf Tournament last weekend in Columbus, Georgia.

The Rebels competed in the first two days of the meet before failing to meet the last day's cut of the top 15 teams.

"I was pleased with the way Randy Watkins played," head coach Ernest Ross said following the conclusion of the event. "The competition was extremely tough. We can see that we've made improvement over last year, and that's encouraging."

Watkins shot a two-day total of 146 for the tourney. The sophomore from Jackson shot a 71 on the second day, equalling the second day performance of Rickey Smallridge of Auburn, who was in second place on the day, and being only a stroke off the 18-hole round of 70 shot by Chip Hall of Florida for the second day.

Other Ole Miss scores for the tournament were: Gregg Richey, 150; Rick Kies, 154; Chris Polk, 154; and Chris Mills, 156.

"We played a tough ball schedule, and we hope that we make a lot of progress by doing this," Ross concluded. "We look forward to a good spring."

The Rebels' fall schedule concluded with the Dixie Intercollegiate. The spring matches will begin Feb. 15 with the Gator Invitational in Gainesville, Florida.

Lady Eagles open season against 'W'

Southern Mississippi's Lady Golden Eagle basketball team kicks off its 1980-81 season Tuesday on the road against Mississippi University for Women and according to fourth-year USM coach Kay James her "squad is anxious and excited about starting the season."

"We have been very enthusiastic in practice and have made a lot of progress in pre-season drills," said James. "We have been playing mainly against ourselves the past two months and I think everyone is ready for the season to start."

One thing pleasing to James is the fact that for the first time in three years her team will be 100-percent healthy for the season opener. Three-year starter Nancy Faulk was hampered by an injury at the start of the 1978-79 campaign, while Faulk, and starters Shirley Jones and Pam McCoy were all ailing at the start of last season.

The Lady Eagles open the difficult schedule with three straight road games against the "W," Belhaven and Delta State. The home opener is slated for Dec. 5 when USM hosts Tulane in the Green Coliseum.

The probable starting lineup for the Lady Eagles in Tuesday's season opener is Faulk and McCoy, both 6-0 seniors, playing the double post, Shirley Jones, a 5-4 senior, on the point, with 5-8 junior Dianne Jones on one wing and either 5-9 junior Vianne Giddens or 5-7 freshman Joyce Nell Lee manning the other wing position.

MUW, which opens its 1980-81 season Thursday night at North Alabama, posted a 11-16 record last season but finished second in the state tournament and advanced to the Region 3 tournament before being eliminated by South Alabama.

The probable starting lineup for the "W" includes 6-0 sophomore Brenda Satcher (6.7 points & 5.4 rebounds per game in '79-80) and 6-1 junior Sue Johnson (18.4 points & 10.7 rebounds) at the double post, 5-4 freshman Katie Eaton and 5-8 Carrie Ball (11.9 points & 8.4 rebounds) at the wings and 5-4 Juliette Lindsey (1.2 points) at the point.

Tip-off for Tuesday's opener is set for 7:30 p.m. in MUW's Pohl Gymnasium.

PRC in four-day Jones Tournament

Pearl River College's basketball Wildcats and Lady Wildcats will begin play here Thursday against the Meridian Eagles in the PRC Coliseum.

Billy Holmes, head master of the Wildcats for the past two years, has also taken on the duties as head coach of the Lady Wildcats.

Last year the PRC men's team posted an 18-3 overall record, the best at Pearl River since the mid-60's.

"I've had both the boys and girls teams working on fundamentals, discipline, and attitude," said Holmes, "and I think we're going to be ready. Both teams are looking real well - we've got some problems, of course, but with lots of work we'll be pretty tough."

The Lady Wildcats won two recent scrimmages - one over Prentiss Institute, and the other over Delgado. "We had some real good scrimmages; all the girls performed well, and I think they served a good purpose," said Coach Holmes.

"We accomplished a lot of things we wanted to work on without the anxieties of a real game situation. I'm encouraged and optimistic about this season, due to their attitude and their willingness to work hard," he added.

On the men's team, Holmes said, "We'll be ready; we're starting to get things together and are looking good. We are going to play a defensive, disciplined type of ball game. The boys have all been working hard and applying themselves to get our plan down."

"We are going to be basically the same type of ball club that we had last year - tough on defense and aggressive."

PRC's schedule follows:

Nov. 21, 22, 24, 25 - Jones

Post 139 hosts area conference

Members of Clement R. Bontemps - American Legion Post 139, and Ladies Auxiliary, Department of Mississippi attended an American Legion Southern Area Conference recently at the Waveland Resort Inn.

Local legionnaires attending were Commander, Henry Prevou, Adjutant John Wilkerson, Horace Ruhr, Gilbert Gayaut, John Rutherford, Billy Moran and Clayton Thompson.

Local auxiliary members attending were President Phyllis Moran and Anna

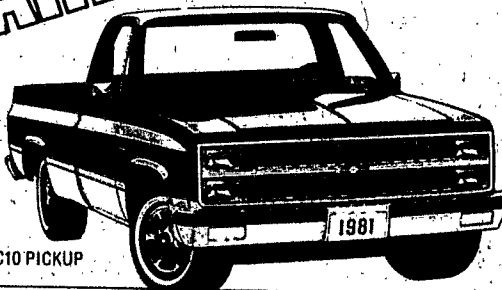

Gayaut.

"Rutherford briefed the conference regarding community activities sponsored by Post 139 in Bay St. Louis and offered assistance to other posts interested in establishing programs similar to ours," said Post 139 Public Relations Director Bill Moran.

"Those attending the conference were treated to a fish fry and dance at Waveland's American Legion Post 77," Moran reported.

"Plans are now underway for a Mid-Winter Conference on Jan. 23, 24 and 25 at the Holiday Inn North in Jackson.

NEW CHEVY TRUCKS ARE HERE NOW

1981 CHEVY C10 PICKUP

17 EPA EST. MPG

22 EST. HWY.

AVAILABLE 5.0 LITER 305 CU. IN. V8 WITH ELECTRONIC SPARK-CONTROL

Remember: Compare the "estimated MPG" to the "estimated MPG" of other vehicles. You may get different mileage, depending on how fast you drive, weather conditions and tire weight. Actual highway mileage will probably be less than the estimated highway fuel economy. These Chevy trucks are equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.

For 1981, the new Chevy Pickup is an important step ahead in trucking. A new aerodynamic shape with weight trimmed, but no sacrifice in payload capacity. The result is what today's truck buyers are looking for, an efficient yet tough truck loaded with Chevy value.

24. In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY
RITA de CUE

On November 21 in the year of Our Lord 1979 A.D. Rita de Cue departed this life for her heavenly home. The lovely Rita was one of Hancock County's fairest daughters - beautiful of countenance and beautiful in her heart. She was the only daughter born to Emilio Joseph and Ellen Favre de Cue of Kiln, Mississippi. A younger brother, the late well-known Emilio (Dick) Cue was a great source of joy and pride in her life. We will remember you always as the kind, loving, thoughtful and compassionate lady you were. We loved you in life, Rita, we will love and cherish your memory forever.

Sadly missed by Your cousins.

Girl Scouts and Brownies hold annual event at Buccaneer Park

Jennifer Carter, Kimberly Grieff, Cherie Todd and Amanda Berry of Troop 357

The Sea Coast Echo feature
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1980-1C

Bay-Waveland Girl Scout Neighborhood's annual Juliette Low birthday celebration was observed recently at Buccaneer Park. Because Juliette Low was far ahead of her time, the Neighborhood chose 'Aerospace, the World of Today and Tomorrow' as theme for the two day event. Cadette and junior troops camped out Friday night. Original skits about creatures from outer space were presented that evening with each girl creating a character, a costume and a prop.

Troop 438, a junior troop from Waveland Elementary, under leadership of Mrs. Bea Gallegos won first place for best costumes. Troop 453, junior troop from Bay-Catholic Schools, under leadership of Mrs. Laurin LaFontaine, was awarded a ribbon for cutest skit.

Junior Troop 32 from Bay-Catholic and Junior Troop 292 from Christ Episcopal Day School tied for second place. Kite, glider and paper airplane flying competition was held Saturday when the Brownies arrived. Ribbons were presented to winners in the following categories:

First kite up - Christine Ellis of Troop 453.

Highest flying hand made kite - Kelli Lee of Troop 32.

Best All-Around Kite - Kelli Lee of Troop 32.

Prettiest Kite - First place, Page Murphy of Troop 292; second place, Brook Schultz of Troop 292.

Kite with the Wettest Tail - Dee Dee Strong of Troop 32.

Kite that met with vehicular accident - Lauri Gagnon of Troop 453.

Noisiest Kites - Allison Miller and Melinda Miller of Troop 292.

Highest flying bought kite - Kerry Merrigan of Troop 453.

Troop Award - All kites flew, Troop 438.

Lowest Flying Kite - Hayden Larroux of Troop 453.

Prettiest Brownie Kite - Leslie Diamond of Troop 351.

Best Newspaper Kite - First place, Kelly Oliver of Troop 486; and second place, Elizabeth Gex of Troop 486.

Upside down flyer - Aubrey Hyde of Troop 351.

Highest kite flying without a tail - Tina Ryan of Troop 486.

Winners in troop glider and paper airplane contest include:

Brownie Troop 351, Christ Episcopal.

First place, Nicole Bezou; second place, Laurie Lamber; and third place, Melissa Nigro.

Junior Troop 292, Christ Episcopal.

First place, Dotty Kay Schoenfield; second place, Julie Rutherford; and third place, Brook Schultz.

Junior Troop 453, Bay-Catholic.

First place, Vicki LaFontaine; second place, Amy Oliver; and third place, Laurie Gagnon and Kerry Merrigan.

Junior Troop 32, Bay-Catholic.

First place, Alicein Schwabacher; second place, Suzanne Hille; and third place, Dee Dee Strong.

Junior Troop 438, Waveland Elementary.

First place, Lucretia Garcia; second place, Kanda Poolson; and third place, Bridget Baum.

Overall winners in a run off between troops included:

First place, Dotty Kay Schoenfield; second place, Laurie Lambert of Troop 351; and third place (tie) Julie Rutherford of Troop 292 and Lauri Gagnon of Troop 453.

Paper airplane winners were Roslyn Whavers of Troop 122 and Missy Mauffray of Junior Troop 122, both from North Bay Elementary.

The day culminated in a traditional Daisy Exchange.

Each girl found her 'Daisy Friend' for this year.

Daisy friends remember each other with letters and cards during the year, especially on Thinking Day.

By the end of the festivities the five junior troops had each earned an Aerospace Badge.

The cadette troop had completed part of work towards Dabbler Interest Patch, and the three brownie troops had completed several 'B' activities in the World of Today and Tomorrow.

Some 100 girls participated in 'Daisy Day.'

The activities were under the direction of Ethel Schott, neighborhood chairman, and Alice Holmes and Hilda Bourg.

Production line education robs children of individuality

Back within my memory a man was almost wholly dependent on himself. There were no jobs, no pay rolls, no social security - a man depended on himself alone for his living.

Back in the old days a man had to solve his own money problems as there were no banks from which to borrow. He had to build his house out of logs, or he had to make his own lumber as there were no saw mills or lumber yards such as we find today.

For his roof, he rived out boards from pine trees on his own land to cover his home.

About 40 years ago Mr. John Dillard, then 76 years of age, wrote the following at my request:

"I wish I could see my boyhood days again when each family we knew, with one exception, lived in a log house, the yard fence built of split pickets with gourd vines running over the fence and geese hollering all over the place."

A word of explanation - Mr. Dillard lived in a log house in what is now Picayune, Miss., where the Lucius Olen Crosby Memorial Hospital now stands.

To continue with Mr. Dillard's story:

"You could sit on the front porch of our old house at night and hear the wolves howling in the thick woods which covered all of what is now Picayune."

"When day would begin to break, you could hear wild turkeys gobbling in most any direction and you would hear a fox barking from some nearby log or stump."

"In those days as I plowed in the field where Picayune High School now stands, it was not unusual to see a bunch of deer running through the woods. In early morning when the sound carried well we would plainly hear the old Jackass braying at a neighbor's house five miles away."

"In those days there was no railroad here, no gravel or black top roads or even graded roads, no autos, no radios, no phones, no electric lights, no picture shows, no papers, no magazines, no school, no ball games, no post office. Everything was just as God made it."

"The farm houses were about three to five miles apart on the average, but you could hear the old steam boats blowing going up and down Pearl River."

"After the day's work with night beginning to fall when everything had been cleaned up, the old father and mother would call all the family, and any visitors, into the front room, read a few verses from the old family bible, sing an old hymn or two, have prayer and everyone go to bed."

"The coming of darkness was the time for everybody to go to bed both summer and winter at our house."

"Next morning one of the family would get up about 4 o'clock, put a pinch of gun powder on a little cotton, take his flint and steel and make a spark in the powder to get his fire. Matches were scarce and expensive in those days. Sometime we would not see a match for months but we knew how to get fire when we needed it."

"Mother cooked breakfast while all the others would, at daybreak, go to the field and to work."

"When breakfast was ready she would blow a horn made from a cow horn to call us in. This same procedure would take place at noon and again in the evening."

"In those days we had no clock but my parents from necessity had learned to tell the time of day almost as well as if we had had a high priced clock."

"People back then could do a lot of things they can't do now. While working the fields right where the hospital and schools now stand, it was not unusual to kill a big rattlesnake as there were plenty of them here then."

What a tremendous change in this area since Mr. Dillard grew up. As he said, things were much simpler back in the old days. For one thing there were no bill collectors and peddlars trying to sell everything under the sun, no insurance agents, no collectors on burial policies, no termite inspectors, no tax collectors and no other type of high pressure artist had been turned loose on an innocent, unsuspecting and unprotected public.

While we talk about progress and modernism and great achievements we are not as well off in many ways as were people 100 years ago. For one thing, I think there were many more really interesting people back in the old days.

There were more real personalities.

Now, all the children go to the same kind of schools, study the same books, have teachers who have been educated the same way in the same kinds of schools and colleges.

As a result, children come off this production line education thinking and acting pretty much alike - about like cars that run through a production line and all built alike.

Boys and girls today see the same TV shows, listen to the same records and radio programs. The result is that they tend to become alike.

The big defect in our schools today is the trend toward regimented uniformity. When a child loses his originality, he loses his most interesting characteristic.

A small child is most interesting because he has not become infected with the virus of uniformity.

The tot has not been run through the production lines that bring on sameness and mediocrity.

I never miss an opportunity to talk to children. They sparkle with interest, they are witty - they are individuals, they are unspoiled by the curse of acting and doing like everyone else.

The schools have done much good in many ways and I would not be without them, but on the other hand they have done much to limit the individuality and originality of children.

I like the old time stories, too. They are usually clean, yet witty and more original.

They come out of the experiences of the people and not from some joke factory in Hollywood where the originators have no conception of the thinking of ordinary people.

Here's the kind of story I like:

A feller who had never been to New Orleans was shipping wood there from Picayune. He thought the dealer was shorting him and he decided to go down and see about it.

He caught the early train and arrived in the city about 9 a.m.

Before leaving another man who was shipping wood to the same dealer told him how to get to the dealer's place of business. He was told to walk across Canal Street from the depot, watch for a Claiborne street car and catch it, and then ask the conductor to put him off at the wood dealer's place.

He followed instructions and made his way from the depot over to the streetcar line.

He watched for a Claiborne car. Pretty soon one came but was going too fast for him to catch it. He waited for another one. It was moving fast too, but he made a try at catching it anyway.

He was thrown rolling over and over on the pavement. He got up and brushed himself off, and began looking for another Claiborne car.

The next one was coming fast also but by speeding and handling himself well, he managed to catch it.

The conductor asked him what he meant by catching a car like that, telling him he was apt to get killed. He said to the conductor, "I was told to catch it. If you don't catch it like that, how do you catch it?"

Newly recognized pest attacking state beans

A newly recognized insect pest, the decates stem borer, is attacking Mississippi soybeans.

"The decates stem borer is considered a minor pest and its damage usually goes unnoticed," says Dr. Pat Harris, area pest management specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. "Climatic stress, faced by soybeans this year, however, made their presence more noticeable."

These borers damage soybeans by tunneling as larvae in the plant stem. After the plant dies, the larvae girdle the soybean stem internally just above the soil surface.

Little evidence shows that yield decreases occur because of their feeding. Most damage occurs from plant lodging, Dr. Harris says. Girdled plants lodge more severely under adverse climatic conditions.

Adult decates stem borers are small, dark gray, elongate, longhorn beetles. The damaging larvae are creamy white with an amber head capsule and spindle-shaped bodies.

Borers overwinter as grown larvae in the stubble of soybeans, ragweeds, cocklebur and other weeds.

If not controlled, adult beetles emerge in the early summer from stubble. Adults then mate and eggs are deposited in cavities chewed out along leaf petioles. Eggs hatch and larvae feed on pith tissue and tunnel the stem.

"The best way to keep this pest out of soybean fields is to disk or turn under soybean and weed stubble this fall. Also disk around edges of fields," Dr. Harris says. "Normally, control measures are not needed in season. Preventing infestation from occurring is our best method of control."

MISSISSIPPI GOVERNORS

The lives and leadership of the more than ninety men who have served as chief executive of the Magnolia State are documented in The Governors of Mississippi, the fifth volume in Pelican Publishing Company's Governors of the States series.

Author Cecil L. Summers, who served for 12 years as a Mississippi state senator, traces the evolution of modern-day Mississippi through the programs, policies, and acts of the men who have headed the state.

Beginning with the region's first governor—Pierre Le Moyne, Sieur d'Iberville, the founder of Mississippi—Summers records the leadership under the reigns of the French, the British, the Spanish, the territorial government, and finally the modern state.

Rogues, visionaries, figureheads, sometimes statesmen—they are all included in this collection of brief biographies of the state's chief executives.

Included among the governors are:

—William Lewis Sharkey, who fought in the Battle of New Orleans at age seventeen and later opposed both secession and the confederacy;

—Theodore Bilbo, known as "the Stormy Petrel of Mississippi Politics," two-time governor and perhaps the most colorful political figure in the state's history;

—Dennis Murphree, twice governor and three times lieutenant governor; and

—Hugh White and Mike Conner, credited with developing the present-day financial foundation of the state.

Portraits or photographs of 59 of the governors are presented together in one volume for the first time.

Author Summers, an attorney and historian, is a resident of Iuka. He is also the author of Chief Tishomingo, a biography of the last war chief of the Chickasaw Indians.

Other volumes in this series are The Governors of Louisiana, in a newly updated version; The Governors of Texas; The Governors of Alabama; and The Governors of Tennessee.

We are now cleaning and servicing all makes and models, central & window unit air conditioners.

Enjoy Healthful Eating With Flair

Today, many people are following more healthful eating patterns by cutting back on saturated fats and cholesterol. Providing your family with nutritious, good-tasting foods does not have to be difficult. It is easy to add flair to your meals by selecting exciting low-fat ingredients.

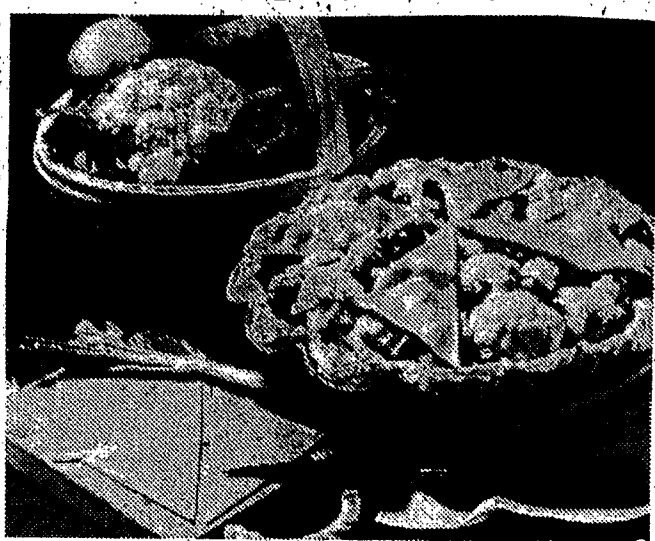

New Age Sandwich Slices, a cheese substitute made with vegetable oil and containing 90% less cholesterol than process cheese, is suitable for any low-fat diet. Add its appealingly good flavor to meatless Vegetable Patch Pie, a sure winner with all family members. Made with garden vegetables in a mashed potato crust and topped with Hot Pepper Sandwich Slices, this versatile dish may be served as a light lunch or as a satisfying dinner.

VEGETABLE PATCH PIE

Crust:
4 medium-size potatoes, pared and cubed
2 egg whites
Filling:
½ cup chopped scallions
1 clove garlic, minced
1 medium-size head cauliflower, broken into small flowerettes
1 medium red pepper, cut in cubes
½ teaspoon dried leaf savory, crumbled
¼ teaspoon dried leaf oregano, crumbled

2 tablespoons water
6 slices New Age Hot Pepper Flavor Sandwich Slices, divided
2 eggs
¼ cup skim milk

Cook potatoes in boiling water to cover until tender; drain. In medium mixing bowl, mash potatoes with egg whites until smooth. Spread mixture evenly in a 9-inch pie plate. Prick bottom with a fork. Bake in a 425°F oven 12 minutes. Remove and cool slightly. In a large skillet with a non-stick surface, sauté scallions and garlic until tender. Add cauliflower, red pepper, savory, oregano and water. Cover. Cook 8 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Drain. Cut 4 slices of New Age Hot Pepper Flavor Sandwich pie in a pinwheel fashion. Slices into small pieces. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

FARM EXPORTS

Agricultural exports, projected at $40 billion for fiscal year 1980, are by far the leading positive factor in the nation's balance of trade.

These exports provide much-needed foreign exchange to help offset some of the costs of oil and other imported products that America buys. Agriculture's trade surplus, which is expected to be $22.5 billion in 1980, has helped reduce our persistent international trade deficit. Without agriculture's contribution, international confidence in the economic strength of our country would fall to a very low level. Economists estimate farm exports this year will generate $82 billion in domestic economic activity. This creates many new jobs for Americans in both the farm and non-farm sectors.

In 1979, farm exports provided employment for more than 1.13 million U.S. workers. About 630,000 of these jobs were in the non-farm sector related to food processing, trade and transportation, manufacturing and other services.

TURKEY FEED
Winter grasses and clover make excellent plantings for wild turkey. Wheat or ryegrass overseeded with clover three to six weeks later will furnish supplemental food during the winter and spring, and also provide good summer range for the birds.

Adult birds will forage for grain and insects, while young poult will eat insects for much-needed protein.

LEAVES
Are leaves and pine straw a problem in your lawn? They won't be, if you collect them and use as mulch around houseplants.

Mulch will protect shrubs, flowers and trees from winter injury and root damage from extreme soil temperature changes. Mulch also prevents soils from drying and compacting by allowing water to trickle into the soil.

TIME TO APPLY LIME
Fall is the best time to apply lime for maximum benefits on next spring's crop. Fall application is especially important if you use hard rock lime on your crop or pasture lands. This will give the lime time to break down in the soil and become available for the 1981 crop.

If you must wait until spring to apply lime, use a finely ground soft lime that will become available quicker than hard rock lime.

RURAL ROADSIDE ABUSE

Probably no other real estate in Mississippi has more diversity, is more in the public eye, nor takes more abuse than our roadsides or rights-of-way.

These strips of embankment, grass, wildflowers, trees, ditches, and rubbish have an extremely high visibility and contribute greatly both to the beauty and unsightliness of this state.

Their maintenance, such as it is, normally comes under the jurisdiction of the state highway department, city engineering departments, or county boards of supervisors. It is a big job that consumes many tax dollars and often it is one that is performed in a minimal sort of way.

Rural roadsides, which often pass through some of the most scenic settings in this attractive state, usually get the short end of the stick in maintenance and long end of it when it comes to abuse by shortcut methods and littering. In some places out of the way roadsides are dumping grounds for whatever trash and litter local citizens choose to get rid of with a minimum of effort.

Some roadsides are no longer mowed but are kept in check by herbicide spraying operations that give them the appearance of a Norman's land, and woody growth in some areas is controlled by battering the limbs off trees that border the roads with a tilted bushog. The results are an eyesore that make all but the calloused wince.

Farmers, whose homes, fields and pastures border this real estate, face an increasingly serious litter problem with broken bottles and other sharp edged litter occasionally ruining an expensive tractor tire, or the threat of an accident resulting from flying debris from beneath a mower being an ever-constant threat.

Over the country, however, people are getting fed up with roadside abuse and are working to bring about reforms. Many states are outlawing throwaway containers or putting sizeable deposits on each one making it economically worthwhile to return them to their source. This has improved the situation in other states but not in Mississippi where we haven't seen fit to get tough on the issue.

Although Mississippi has a law prohibiting littering and providing for a $50 fine for one convicted of this misdemeanor, the law is enforced so rarely until it is ineffective. The last time this writer checked with the Mississippi Highway Patrol concerning tickets written for this offense, the statewide count for the previous year was considerably less than 100 citations.

Recently Tennessee farmers took a tough stance against litter and called it their number one priority for the year through their largest farm organization.

Even more recently a report came out of Ohio of another innovative approach to the whole roadside maintenance problem. The Wayne county, Ohio, engineering department and the Wayne County Farm Bureau, put their heads together and came up with the idea of contracting with farmers to mow roadsides for a fee.

For example, Tim Workinger of Baughman Township in Wayne county participated in the cooperative mowing project and he and his brother took responsibility for 12 miles of county roadway and were paid $5 per mile for their services to the county. In all, between 10 and 15 farmers joined in the experimental program which so far has proven quite satisfactory. The county came out ahead financially over trying to keep up six mowers and pulling men off of other jobs for the seasonal task.

Occasionally in Mississippi one passes a farmstead where a proud owner has mowed the roadside in the interest of the appearance of his neighborhood, but at his personal expense.

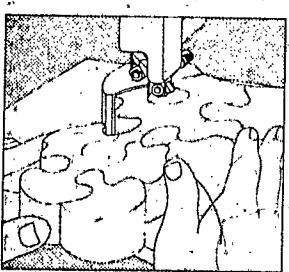

Mississippi has a way to go to keep pace with the rest of the nation in the treatment of her roadsides which have such an outstanding potential for increased enjoyment and beauty.

CREATIVE IDEAS IN WOOD

Everyone enjoys puzzles. Puzzles are so intriguing in the way their pieces interlock and form an object or picture.

To make the puzzles pictured here, laminate two 3/4" thick boards together to make 1-1/2" thick blanks. Trace the shapes on the blanks and draw interlocking pieces inside the shapes. Cut the outside shape first, then cut the puzzle pieces apart with your bandsaw and a small, sharp blade. Sand all outside surfaces. Finish with a non-toxic finish.

Cutting puzzle pieces apart with a bandsaw.

If you'd like to have the detailed instructions to make these puzzles, plus patterns to make five different animal shapes, ask us for Idea No. 1821 and send $2 to Creative Ideas in Wood, c/o this newspaper, 750 Center Drive, Vandalia, Ohio 45377.

Woodworkers' Forum

Question: I have trouble with bandsaw blades breaking, even new ones. What can I do to prevent this?

Bandsaw blades will break occasionally, but this should not be a common occurrence in your shop. Bandsaw blades that are dull and worn have a tendency to break. With older blades, sharpen the blades before they become too dull.

New blades or sharp blades should not break with normal use. Two major causes of new or sharp blades breaking are excessive feed pressure and turning too sharply.

Never force the blade beyond its cutting capacity. Take it slow and easy for a smooth, accurate cut.

Don't cut radii too small for the blade. On some tight corners, you'll actually just turn the stock and not push forward. On curves or corners too small for the blade, use turning holes or relief cuts to provide room for the blade to turn.

It's also important that the blade guides be set properly. The guides should never be forced against the blade; allow a space (about tissue paper thin) between the blade and guides. Misalignment can ruin the guides or cause the blade to break.

We're glad to answer wood-working questions from readers. Write us at our Vandalia address and please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope to help facilitate a quick reply.

The "Italian Stallion" is on a fast track these days. Of course that's none other than Sylvester Stallone (on HBO this month in Rocky II). Since millions of Rocky fans clamored for more — Sly brought the lovable heavyweight back for another big bout — and marriage and fatherhood. Will there be a Rocky III? Sly doesn't deny the possibility. "If I have a mission in the entertainment field," he says, "it is to create pictures that make audiences feel good." He stresses particularly the role of heroes and heroines as positive symbols. "As they struggle and claw and finally attain their goal, viewers realize 'My God, I can do that' or 'That's the kind of person I want to be.'"

Here's the impeccable comic, George Burns (on HBO this month in Going in Style and Just You and Me, Kid) on some crucial facts of life: On Employment — "When I first started out in vaudeville I changed my name as often as I changed my underwear. I was so lousy, I had to keep the audience guessing who I was." On Marriage — "Gracie (Allen) married me for laughs. I got more laughs in bed than Berle gets in Vegas. What made our marriage work was that we both had the same mistress... show business. We loved each other more because we loved what we were doing." On Growing Old — "A lot of people practice getting old. They walk slower and hold onto things. They start practicing when they're 70, and when they're 75, they are a hit. They're old. Who the hell wants that?"

She grew up as Sofia Scicolone, or Sofia Stuzicadente (toothpick). She became Sofia Lazzaro for her film debut. Now she's known to all the world as Sophia Loren (on HBO this month in the classic El Cid). With an exciting rags-to-riches life story behind her, she makes some extravagant claims. "All Neapolitans are superstitious — I am a witch." What kind of witch? "I have eerie premonitions. Once I was invited to Brussels, and I had an overwhelming feeling of impending disaster. I canceled, and the plane on which I was to return crashed, killing all aboard. At our New York apartment one night I was disturbed by a black shadow cast across my room. Early the next morning three armed bandits robbed me of every piece of jewelry I owned — $1 million worth!"

Must an actor always be a celebrity? Not in Al Pacino's opinion (now appearing on HBO in And Justice For All). He's mum on his social life and successfully eludes the public eye. Totally immersed in every role he undertakes, he rarely has time to play the celebrity. "I'm very poor at interviews," Pacino reveals. "Whatever anyone asks me, I blurt out the truth in reply. As a result, I've said things — later quoted in the press — which broke confidences or hurt people I cared about." He sadly confesses, "That bothered me more than I can say." But fortunately not enough to affect his superb performances!

Agriculture Today

by Ed Curran
U.S. Department of Agriculture

U.S. Farm exports reached a record $32 billion last year, up 17 percent from a previous high of $27.3 billion in 1978. While every state but Alaska shared in the export total, just 10 states accounted for 57 percent of the total. And, just three commodities — soybeans, feed grains and wheat — accounted for 60 percent of all farm exports.

Illinois, with $2.9 billion in exports, again led all states in farm exports last year, though its total was up just slightly from the $2.81 billion credited to it in 1978. Iowa, where the export total moved up from $2.06 billion in 1978 to $2.84 billion last year, was a close second. Texas, where the total fell from $2.09 billion in 1978 to $2.05 billion last year, dropped from second to third position on the list.

California, where the export total hit $2.01 billion, up from $1.93 billion a year earlier, continued in fourth place. Minnesota held fifth place with a $1.74 billion total, up from $1.47 billion in 1978. Kansas, where exports moved up from $1.36 billion in 1978 to $1.57 billion last year, moved from seventh to sixth place.

Nebraska, which also showed a substantial gain — from $1.28 billion to $1.55 billion — moved from 8th position in 1978 to seventh last year. Indiana, which showed a gain — from $1.40 billion in 1978 to $1.47 billion last year — still dropped from sixth position to eighth on the list.

Missouri showed a sharp gain, from $1.05 billion in 1978 to $1.42 billion last year, moved up from 10th position to ninth. North Carolina broke into the top ten with a $1.15 billion total that was up from $923 million and good for twelfth position in 1978. Ohio fell to eleventh place, though its export total moved up from $1.06 billion in 1978 to $1.12 billion last year.

On the commodity side, soybeans again led all commodities with a $7.5 billion total that was up 17 percent from the $6.4 billion exported in 1978. Feed grains again held the runner-up spot with a $7.0 billion total that was also up 17 percent from the $5.98 billion recorded in 1978. Wheat exports moved up 20 percent, from $4.1 billion in 1978 to $4.9 billion in 1979.

Illinois (with $1.24 billion), Iowa ($1.17 billion) and Missouri (with $632 million) led in exports of soybeans; Illinois ($1.24 billion), Iowa ($1.21 billion) and Nebraska ($836 million) led in export credits of feed grains; and Kansas ($880 million), North Dakota ($856 million) and Oklahoma ($419 million) led in exports of wheat.

A present for the future.

Did you ever hear of returning a Savings Bond because someone had too many? No, that's something you'll never hear.

There's never a problem on Christmas morning if someone has two of the same thing. Even the third, fourth, or fifth Savings Bond is as welcome as the first.

So don't give someone you love their third chafing dish. This Christmas, give a present for the future. Give U.S. Savings Bonds.

CHICKENS & EGGS

SEPT. 1980
Mississippi's 6,744,000 layers produced 130 million eggs in September 1980, according to the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This was 2 percent below the 132 million eggs produced in September 1979. Of these, 99 million were Table Eggs, the remaining 31 million were Hatching Eggs.

Broiler-type chicks hatched in Mississippi during September totaled 21,486,000 (5 percent) above the September 1979 hatch. The hatch of egg-type chicks was 1,130,000 (1 percent) above the 1,046,000 egg-type chicks hatched in September 1979.

There were 24,046,000 young chickens slaughtered under Federal Inspection during August 1980 in Mississippi. This is 9 percent below the 26,336,000 inspected during August 1979. August Post Mortem condemnations were 2.29 percent, as compared to 1.76 percent in August 1979.

BROILER-TYPE

Hatcheries in the state set 6,861,000 eggs for broiler chicks during the week ending Nov. 1, four percent above the previous week and 17 percent above the corresponding week a year ago.

There were 5,360,000 broiler chicks placed on Mississippi farms during the week ending Nov. 1, 1980, five percent below the previous week but 21 percent above the corresponding week a year ago.

Cumulative placements for 1980 are 250,173,000 broiler chicks - two percent above a year earlier.

EGG-TYPE

Hatcheries in the state set 262,000 eggs for egg-type chicks during the week ending Nov. 1, 1980, one percent below the previous week and 11 percent below the 295,000 set during the comparable week a year ago.

Hatch of egg-type chicks was 245,000 25 percent above the previous week but 16 percent below the 291,000 hatched during the comparable week a year ago.

In five states which accounted for about 26 percent of the hatch of all egg-type chicks in the U.S. in 1979, settings during the week ending November 1, 1980, were up slightly but hatchings were down 14 percent from a year ago.

Brownbuilder Bill Estridge is working for you in Mississippi

William S. Estridge, from Leakesville, is a Mississippi Brownbuilder—one of the men and women of Brown & Root—working for you in Mississippi.

Bill joined Brown & Root in 1974 and is a material expeditor. He and his wife, Judy, have four children and live in Leakesville. Bill retired from the U.S. Air Force in 1968 as an administrative supervisor and counts hunting and fishing among his favorite pastimes.

Mississippi Brownbuilders like Bill are working for you and thousands of your neighbors. They're helping to build the hardware, such as oil fields and chemical and power plants, which will help insure Mississippi's future growth and prosperity.

Because of Brown & Root's policy of hiring locally first, most of our Brownbuilders here are natives or longtime residents. Many of them first joined Brown & Root at project personnel offices near their homes. And, Brown & Root hires and promotes solely on the basis of individual ability and merit. Anyone willing and qualified is eligible to work. That way, local communities, counties and the state get maximum benefit from projects on which we work—hundreds of thousands of dollars in payrolls, purchases, savings and taxes.

Ancient Rite Sheds Light on Solar Heat

What did the Aztecs, Incas and Mayans have in common? All worshipped the sun as a god. Though we aren't likely to raise the sun to the level of a capacity to absorb the sun's heat. Storage media include adobe, stone, ceramic, concrete, masonry, water, or composites of brick, block and sand.

Southern Comfort

In winter when the sun is low in the sky, sunlight entering the south-facing windows is trapped, absorbed and stored in the thermal storage mass. In mild climates, heat can be stored for up to 12 hours. In cold climates, heat can be retained for up to 8 hours. The living space is heated by convection, conduction and radiation.

Movable insulation reduces heat loss to the outdoors at night or on cloudy days.

When the sun is high in the sky in summer, awnings, roof overhangs or leaf-bearing trees shade the south-facing windows from excessive heat gain.

Shading Devices

Awnings, roof overhangs or shade trees prevent overheating in summer when the sun is high. Yet the heat from the low winter sun enters and is trapped behind the glass. This heat warms living areas and is absorbed and stored for up to 12 hours in mild climates. The storage medium can be masonry, concrete, ceramic or brick floors and walls.

Shutters or movable insulation may be necessary to avoid overheating in the daytime or excessive heat loss at night.

Energy-saving passive solar design is gaining favor among budget-conscious homeowners in all parts of the country. One reason is that it can be used with traditional architectural styles and building materials in all regions. The passive concept, which pre-dates the era of central heating, air conditioning and cheap energy, can be used for heating or cooling.

deity, we are beginning to recognize its tremendous potential as a source of free energy.

Even the ages-old method of building housing that works with the environment is being revived.

Contemporary adaptations include the use of passive solar energy as a supplementary source of heat. Unlike "active" systems, a "passive" solar system does not use solar panels. It relies instead on the orientation of a home and the use of various building materials to collect and store heat from the sun.

Use Double Glazing

One of the more common passive solar heating systems uses south-facing, double-glazed windows and a thermal mass for heat storage. The storage medium, which could be a wall, floor or fireplace, can be painted black to increase its

Solar Retro Rises as Update

Whenever a family set its sights on a new or bigger house in the past, it simply picked up and moved.

But that's all changed. Families these days frequently stay put and add on or improve what they have.

Retrofitting—updating, redesigning or adapting a house to meet today's needs—has become big business. Retrofitting to conserve energy, for example, includes adding insulation to walls, ceilings and floors. Another is incorporating a passive solar energy system within a home improvement project.

Unlike an "active" system that requires solar panels and mechanical assistance, a "passive" solar heating system relies on the orientation and structure of the home itself to collect and store heat from the sun.

How does it do this? The simplest passive system involves a large expanse of south-facing glass, usually double-glazed. To be effective, a passive system requires an amount of glass area equal to about one-fifth the square footage of the home.
